(Eco)Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Dominika Oramus, 2023-07-07 Eco Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Domsday Clock Narratives demonstrates that disaster fiction nuclear holocaust and climate change alike allows us to unearth and anatomise contemporary psychodynamics and enables us to identify pretraumatic stress as the common denominator of seemingly unrelated types of texts These Domsday Clock Narratives argue that earth s demise is soon and certain They are set after some catastrophe and depict people waiting for an even worse catastrophe to come References to geology are particularly important in descriptions of the landscape the emphasis falls on waste and industrial bric a brac which is seen through the eyes of a future posthuman archaeologist Their protagonists have the uncanny feeling that the countdown has already started and they are coping with both traumatic memories and pretraumatic stress Readings of novels by Walter M Miller Nevil Shute John Christopher J G Ballard George Turner Maggie Gee Paolo Bacigalupi Ruth Ozeki and Yoko Tawada demonstrate that the authors are both indebted to a century old tradition and inventively looking for new ways of expressing the pretraumatic stress syndrome common in contemporary society This book is written for an academic audience postgraduates researchers and academics specialising in British Literature American Literature and Science Fiction Studies Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth s ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn Storytelling to Accelerate Climate Solutions Emily Coren, Hua Wang, 2024-05-27 The climate is changing faster than our cultural practices are adapting to it This Open Access volume co edited by Emily Coren a science communicator and Hua Wang a communication scientist presents a survey of the latest in agency focused climate storytelling Together practitioners and scholars across different fields shared their knowledge experience and insight about how stories can be designed and told to engage enable and empower individuals and communities in climate communication and action You will learn a wide range of narrative strategies and exemplary applications of climate storytelling in terms of professional practices e g education literature journalism popular media genres and formats e g drama comedy fiction media platforms e g television radio mobile and communication modalities e g

text visual audio multisensory Entertainment education has been proven over decades to be an effective tool for social and behavior change in the public health sphere and has not yet been applied at scale to the massive ongoing climate related disasters that we need to solve now fast There is an urgent need to rapidly apply and adapt public engagement tools for climate communication to speed up our response times for climate change mitigation and adaptation This book takes a snapshot of where climate storytelling is currently at describes where it fits within a climate communication landscape and supports the next steps of its development It facilitates the of creation climate storytelling efficiently by sharing and amplifying what is working well and building collaborations between practitioners and researchers This is an open access book Innovation, Between Science and Science Fiction Thomas Michaud, 2017-07-17 Fantasy and science fiction are both involved in the process of innovation in techno scientific societies Long regarded as a hindrance to rationality and to science science fiction has become the object of praise in recent decades Innovative organizations use science fiction to stimulate the creativity of their teams and more and more entrepreneurs are using its influence to develop innovation Scientific practice relies in part on an imaginary dimension The mapping of the technical imagination of science fiction has become an important strategic issue as has its patentability The conquest of space the construction of cyberspace and virtual reality biotechnologies and nanotechnologies are all at the center of futuristic fictions that participate in scientific speeches and discoveries Climate and Society Robin Leichenko, Karen O'Brien, 2024-05-13 This bold and passionate textbook has become a go to introduction to current and emerging thinking on the social dimensions of climate change presenting key concepts and frameworks for understanding the multifaceted connections between climate and society Using clear language and powerful examples Robin Leichenko and Karen O'Brien explore the varied social drivers impacts and responses to climate change They highlight the important roles that worldviews values and especially in this updated edition emotions play in shaping interpretations of climate challenges They include additional material on climate justice and equity eco centric discourses paradigm shifts and other topics Situating climate change within the context of a rapidly changing world the book demonstrates how dynamic political economic and environmental contexts amplify risks often unequally for different groups based on race gender wealth and location Yet these shifting conditions also present opportunities for transformative responses the new edition strengthens its emphasis on individuals power to influence systems structures and cultures With updated references examples and data and expanded pedagogical features this informative and engaging new edition empowers undergraduates across the social sciences and other disciplines with a broader and deeper understanding of climate change and the potential for equitable and sustainable responses New Approaches to the Twenty-First-Century Anglophone Novel Sibylle Baumbach, Birgit Neumann, 2019-12-20 This book discusses the complex ways in which the novel offers a vibrant arena for critically engaging with our contemporary world and scrutinises the genre's political ethical and aesthetic value Far reaching cultural political and technological changes during the past two decades have created new contexts for the novel which have yet to be accounted for in literary studies Addressing the need for fresh transdisciplinary approaches that explore these developments the book focuses on the multifaceted responses of the novel to key global challenges including migration and cosmopolitanism posthumanism and ecosickness human and animal rights affect and biopolitics human cognition and anxieties of inattention and the transculturality of terror By doing so it testifies to the ongoing cultural relevance of the genre Lastly it examines a range of 21st century Anglophone novels to encourage new critical discourses in literary studies

Negotiating Waters: Seas, Oceans, and Passageways in the Colonial and Postcolonial Anglophone World André Dodeman, Nancy Pedri, 2020-01-31 This book examines how seas oceans and passageways have shaped and reshaped cultural identities spurred stories of reunion and separation and redefined entire nations It explores how entire communities have crossed seas and oceans voluntarily or not to settle in foreign lands and undergone identity cultural and literary transformations It also explores how these crossings are represented The book thus contributes to oceanic studies a field of study that asks how the seas and oceans have and continue to affect political narratives of exploration cartography international maritime law identity insularity and literary issues survival narratives fishing stories Divided into three sections Negotiating Waters explores the management the crossings and the re imaginings of the seas and oceans that played such an important role in the configuration of the colonial and postcolonial world and imagination In their careful considerations of how water figures prominently in maps travel journals diaries letters and literary narratives from the 17th century onwards the three thematic sections come together to shed light on how water in all of its shapes and forms has marked lands nations and identities They thus offer readers from different disciplines and with different colonial and postcolonial interests the possibility to investigate and discover new approaches to maritime spaces By advancing views on how seas and oceans exert power through representation Negotiating Waters engages in important critical work in an age of rising concern about maritime environments
