Sources Of Holocaust Research An Analysis:

Yad Vashem Studies ,2001 Reading Primary Sources Miriam Dobson,Benjamin Ziemann,2008-09-03 How does the historian approach primary sources How do interpretations differ How can they be used to write history Reading Primary Sources goes a long way to providing answers for these questions In the first part of this unique volume the chapters give an overview of both traditional and new methodological approaches to the use of sources analyzing the way that these have changed over time The second part gives an overview of twelve different types of written sources including letters opinion polls surveillance reports diaries novels newspapers and dreams taking into account the huge expansion in the range of written primary sources used by historians over the last thirty years This book is an up to date introduction into the historical context of these different genres the ways they should be read the possible insights and results these sources offer and the pitfalls of their interpretation All of the chapters push the reader beyond a conventional understanding of source texts as mere reflections of a given reality instead fostering an understanding of how each of the various genres has to be seen as a medium in its own right Taking examples of sources from around the globe and also including a student friendly further reading section this is the perfect companion for every student of history who wants to engage with sources Raphael Lemkin and the Concept of Genocide Douglas Irvin-Erickson,2017 Rapha l Lemkin was one of the twentieth century s most influential human rights figures coining the word genocide in 1942 and working to embed the idea into international law This book sheds new light on the concept of genocide exploring the connection between Lemkin s philosophical writings juridical works and politics Historical Origins of International Criminal Law Morten Bergsmo,Klaus Rackwitz,SONG Tianying,2017-04-29 Poland's Transformation Marek Jan Chodakiewicz,John Radzilowski,Dariusz Tolczyk, Poland has carried out two peaceful revolutions in the span of one generation first the self limiting movement of Solidarity which undermined the legitimacy of Communism and then a negotiated transfer of power from Communism to free market democracy Today while Poland is seen as a success story and is joining political and economic associations in the democratic West Poles themselves seem downcast They ask is social anomie a price worth paying for a successful transformation In making moral compromises with an outgoing tyranny can one avoid cynicism and disappointment with democracy Zbigniew Brzezinski professor of American Foreign Policy at Johns Hopkins University has called Polish Transformation a work that provides a comprehensive as well as incisive overview of the extraordinary difficult and historically unprecedented process of transforming an increasingly corrupt and decayed totalitarian system into a modern democracy John Lenczowski director of the Institute of World Politics adds that this extremely useful volume explains the essential elements of the post communist political transition in Poland Its authors convey the cultural and ideological underpinnings that can be captured only by authorities who have developed over a lifetime that special sixth sense for detecting the elusive and unquantifiable soul of a country Radek Sikorski the executive director of the New Atlantic Initiative at the American Enterprise Institute writes that we should be grateful to the authors and editors of this thoughtful volume for asking questions which remain relevant for that uncomfortably large part of humanity that still lives under totalitarian or authoritarian regimes Marek Jan Chodakiewicz holds the Kosciuszko chair in Polish Studies at the Miller Center of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia He is the author of After the Holocaust Polish Jewish Conflict in the Wake of World War II and Between Nazis and Soviets A Case Study of Occupation Politics in Politics 1939 1947 John Radzilowski is author and editor of numerous works ranging from Polish to East European history Dariusz Tolczyk is associate professor of Slavic Languages at the University of Virginia He is the author of See No Evil Literary Cover Ups and Discoveries of the Soviet Camp Experience Unconscionable Crimes

Paul C. Morrow, 2020-09-22 The first general theory of the influence of norms moral legal and social on genocide and mass atrocity How can we explain and prevent such large scale atrocities as the Holocaust In Unconscionable Crimes Paul Morrow presents the first general theory of the influence of norms on genocide and mass atrocity After offering a clear overview of norms and norm transformation rooted in recent work in moral and political philosophy Morrow examines numerous twentieth century cases of mass atrocity drawing on documentary and testimonial sources to illustrate the influence of norms before during and after such crimes Morrow considers such key explanatory pathways as the erosion of moral norms through brutalization and demoralization the exploitation of legal norms to legitimize persecution and deny violence and the enduring influence of gender based social norms on targets and perpetrators of atrocities Key constraints on atrocities would include the revision of moral norms that have traditionally guided the conduct of soldiers and humanitarian aid workers the strengthening of legal prohibitions on large scale crimes through statutory and institutional reform and the elimination of social norms prescribing silence about personal experience of atrocities Throughout Morrow emphasizes the differences among moral legal and social norms which stand in different relations to real or perceived social practices and exhibit different patterns of creation modification and elimination Ultimately he argues norms of each kind are integral to the explanation and the prevention of mass atrocities Pathos and Anti-Pathos

Tom Vanassche, 2022-12-31 Scholarship often presumes that texts written about the Shoah either by those directly involved in it or those writing its history must always bear witness to the affective aftermath of the event the lingering emotional effects of suffering Drawing on the History of Emotions and on trauma theory this monograph offers a critical study of the ambivalent attributions and expressions of emotion and emotionlessness in the literature and historiography of the Shoah It addresses three phenomena the metaphorical discourses by which emotionality and the purported lack thereof are attributed to victims and to perpetrators the rhetoric of affective self control and of affective distancing in fiction testimony and historiography and the poetics of empathy and the status of emotionality in discourses on the Shoah Through a close analysis of a broad corpus centred around the work of W G Sebald Dieter Schlesak Ruth Kluger and Raul Hilberg the book critically contextualises emotionality and its attributions in the post war era when a scepticism of pathos coincided with demands for factual rigidity

Ultimately it invites the reader to reflect on their own affective stances towards history and its commemoration in the twenty first century

The Rescue of Belsen's Diamond Children Bettine Siertsema, 2022-08-11 This book uncovers the history of a group of Jewish workers and merchants in the Amsterdam diamond industry during the Holocaust They and their families were exempt from deportation for a long time but were eventually deported to Bergen Belsen In the end almost all of the men perished and the women barely survived slave labour Their children were left to die in the camp but were miraculously saved by the intervention of a Jewish Polish woman nurse Luba The main sources on which this book is based are video testimonies of the surviving members of this group personal interviews minutes of interviews taken down in shorthand shortly after the war and personal documents such as letters archival documents and autobiographical books

Deportations in the Nazi Era Henning Borggräfe, Akim Jah, 2022-11-21 During the Nazi era about three million Jews half the victims of the Holocaust were deported from the German Reich the occupied territories as well as Nazi allied countries and sent to ghettos camps and extermination centers The police and the SS also deported tens of thousands of Sinti and Roma mainly to the Auschwitz concentration and extermination camp where most of them were killed Deportations were central to National Socialist persecution and extermination In November 2020 an international conference organized by the Arolsen Archives focused on the various historical sources their research potential and digital methods of cataloging them It also explored new systematizing and comparative approaches in historical research This volume features over 20 contributions by scholars from different countries and with a variety of perspectives and questions The main geographical focus is on deportations from the German Reich and German occupied Southeastern Europe

Business Processes

Angelika Menne-Haritz, 2006-02-04 Collaborative decision making processes are a form of communication inside organizations Their functioning can teach lessons for the design of electronic office systems Those processes are open ended and therefore decide themselves on their form Like oral deliberations which cannot be modelled in advance any open ended communication process needs means for common control over the further advancement and the ending of the process The history of German administrative practice and its special methods of using disposals for the control of common processes shows the creation of records as based on communication needs generated by the intention of joint actions For electronic decision making processes the purposes remain the same but the means have to follow the effects of electronic communication on messages The book is a reworked English version of a thesis for the official qualification for university professorship accepted by the German University of Administrative Sciences Speyer Germany
