Specializations - Beat Reporting & Types Mr. Rohit Manglik,2023-11-23 Focused study on specialized reporting in areas like politics crime sports and business Acme Library of Standard Biography ,1880 The Campaigners Cynthia Harrod-Eagles,2011-08-25 1815 Napoleon s escape from Elba and the preparations for battle entangle the Morland family in a web of romance and heartbreak The Allied Army is gathering in Flanders and where the army is the fashionable world must go so London society hastens to Brussels to enjoy the most exhilarating Season ever For Heloise it brings a renewed acquaintance with her former suitor to Duc de Veslne d Estienne while Rosamund must finally come to terms with her feelings for her cousin Marcus and for Sophie a meeting with an enigmatic French major could well alter her future But as romance flourishes in a warlike atmosphere the looming shadow of battle only makes the dancers whirl more feverishly and when the Army marches out to face the might of the French at Waterloo one question is in every heart which of them will not come back Appealing to the Crowd Jeremy Snyder,2023-09-26 Donation based crowdfunding is an increasingly common and visible practice where campaigners ask friends family and even complete strangers for help It isn t unusual to see these campaigns in the news and on social media following a tragedy or disaster and they have helped millions of people However crowdfunding also creates serious ethical and political problems including undermining privacy worsening social inequities and injustices and encouraging fraud and misinformation This book presents these concerns in the context of more traditional giving practices It ends with values to guide crowdfunding and suggestions for how to engage in crowdfunding in less problematic ways Parties, Candidates, and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections Anthony Sayers,2011-11-01 Political scientists have traditionally examined the democratic process at the macro level With its unique micro level focus Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections provides the first systematic analysis of the local constituency campaigns that are the basis of elections and democracy in Canada By taking a detailed look at campaigns in seven B C ridings during the 1988 free trade election the last under the old three party system Anthony Sayers develops a typology of candidates and campaigns The dynamics of local associations nominations and campaigns including those of former prime minister Kim Campbell and New Democrat Svend Robinson as well as key strategic events and the role of the media are reconstructed from interviews with candidates campaign managers party strategists volunteers and journalists The 1993 and 1997 elections are then invoked to show that the insights drawn about the nature of constituency politics remain relevant to the new party system This important contribution to the study of Canadian elections forcefully argues that knowledge of the dynamics at the local level is essential to a full understanding of Canadian polity its underlying social basis and the factors that determine successful election campaigns As such Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections will intrigue not only political scientists and students of Canadian politics but also election candidates and party strategists Dictionary of Labour Biography K. Gildart,D. Howell,N. Kirk,2016-04-29

Fishing for Human Perceptions in Coastal and Island Marine Resource Use Systems, 2nd Edition Annette Breckwoldt,Wen-Cheng Wang,Hans von Storch,Beate M. W. Ratter,2019-06-07 Human perceptions decision making and pro environmental behaviour are closely connected This Research Topic focuses on bringing together perceptions and behaviour for sustainable coastal and island marine resource use systems Management and governance of large and small scale coastal marine resource use systems function in highly complex social and ecological environments which are culturally embedded economically interest led and politically biased Management processes therefore have to integrate multiple perspectives as well as perception driven standpoints on the individual as well as the decision makers levels Consequently the analysis of perceptions has developed not only as part of philosophy and psychology but also of environmental science anthropology and human geography It encompasses intuitions values attitudes thoughts mind sets place attachments and sense of place All of these influence human behavior and action and are collected or are available within the respective marine resource use system which may support the livelihood of a large part of the local population Management and governance are not only about mediating between resource use conflicts or establishing marine protected areas they deal with people and their ideas and perceptions Understanding the related decision making processes on multiple scales and levels hence means much more than economically assessing the available marine resources or existing threats to the associated system Over the past decade there has been a growing inter and transdisciplinary international community becoming interested in research which integrates perceptions of coastal and inland residents local and regional stakeholder groups as well as resource and environmental managers and decision makers By acknowledging the importance of the individual perspective and interest led personal views it became obvious how valuable and important these sources of information are for coastal research An increase of research effort spent on the link between perceptions and behaviour in marine resource use systems is thus both timely and needed By offering a diversity of inspiring and comprehensive contributions on the link between perceptions and behaviour this Research Topic aspires to critically enlighten the discourse and applicability of such research for finding sustainable locally identified anchored and integrated marine resource use pathways
