powerful ways that showcase not just why we need this approach but how to implement it today John P Dugan Executive Director Youth Leadership Programs The Aspen Institute Transforming Public Leadership for the 21st Century Ricardo S. Morse, Terry F. Buss, C. Morgan Kinghorn, 2014-12-18 The forces of globalization are shifting our world including the public sector away from hierarchy and command and control toward one of collaboration and networks The way public leadership is thought about and practiced must be and is being transformed This volume in the Transformational Trends in Governance Democracy series explores what the shift looks like and also offers guidance on what it should look like Specifically the book focuses on the role of career leaders those in public service who are agents of change not only in their own organizations but also in their communities and policy domains These leaders work in network settings making connections and collaborating to create public value and advance the common good Featuring the insights of an authoritative group of contributors the volume offers a mix of scholarship from philosophical discussions to conceptual models to empirical studies that taken together will help inform the transformation of public leadership that is already underway Community Visioning Programs Norman Walzer, Gisele Hamm, 2012-01-30 Community visioning is key in helping local public officials and community leaders create a flourishing future for their cities and is essential for the effective planning and implementation of these strategies Visioning involves collaborative goal setting to motivate actions of planners citizens and officials in order to design and carry out a strategic planning process for the successful development of the community The use of visioning since the 1980s has led to a wealth of information on the productivity of the paths it has taken The contributors all with experience working in the area review the successes and failures of the strategies and look at new innovations which are pushing the frontiers of community visioning This review of the development of visioning focuses on small and medium sized communities in North America It aims to guide citizens local leaders and planners on what strategies are best to help them revitalise their communities and ensure a prosperous future Exploring Civic Innovation for Social and Economic Transformation Kees Biekart, Wendy Harcourt, Peter Knorringa, 2016-05-12 This edited collection examines the globally rising phenomenon of civic innovation Combining nuanced theory with rich empirical examples this book defines the dynamic and complex process of civic innovation as the multiple economic political and social processes where peoples organizations movements and ideas are shaping struggles for global justice on the interface of capitalism Exploring Civic Innovation for Social and Economic Transformation reflects the increasingly holistic approach to development in terms of both teaching and research and illustrates how civic innovation happens everywhere at the global and institutional level as well as in communities and for individuals Through conceptual debate and narrative accounts this book explores the new practices emerging from varying economies transformative empowerment strategies in global value chains local politics of social movements and the struggles for rights in regards to race gender and sexuality Bringing together scholars from a range of disciplines this book would be of interest to post graduate students of development studies with an interest in social research Citizen Participation in Non-profit Governance Sondra Z. Koff, 2017-09-08

Nonprofit organizations their governing structures boards of directors and their newest constituency members who represent the public at large are the subject of this book In recent years new mechanisms have been developed to link citizens with government and with diverse policy making entities Earlier it was assumed that citizens had little interest in policy deliberations and responsibility for public needs was best left to the experts Many citizens now believe that they have a legitimate right to influence how power is exercised in public organizations Koff constructs a demographic profile of public members their activities and their opinions about board membership She also catalogues the perspectives of executive directors about public members identifies specific problems related to public participation and suggests strategies to help resolve them How effectively these bodies perform and how well they respond to the public are in part determined by the talents and activities of their members All of these members especially public members need appropriate tools to be able to perform in a superior fashion Despite the importance of governing bodies to an organization's performance there has been little examination of board members in general and specifically of public members This is the first book length study on the subject

Public Deliberation on Climate Change Lorelei L. Hanson, 2018-02-05 There exists in both academic and political circles a growing interest in public deliberation as an alternative to the sometimes adversarial and polarizing public engagement activities that result in the pitting of experts against lay people Proponents of public deliberation claim that a more deliberative process can engage a diversity of participants in a more guided process that better balances expert knowledge and citizen inclusion Such an approach holds particular promise where citizens and governments engage in discussions of the most complex and intractable issues like climate change Given the host of challenges climate governance presents and the global consequences of our response to them the experience and knowledge shared by Hanson and the contributors to Public Deliberation on Climate Change provide an important framework for advancing public conversations and processes on this and other wicked problems The lessons contained in the volume were gained as a result of a five year multidisciplinary community university research project called Alberta Climate Dialogue ABCD which drew together scholars practitioners citizens civil society members and government officials from across Alberta at four public deliberations By highlighting the value tensions and trade offs and examining the impact that the design of the deliberations has on policy and the creation of conditions that encourage exchange the contributors aim to build capacity within our institutions and society to find new ways to discuss and solve complex problems

Facilitator's Guide to Participatory Decision-Making Sam Kaner, 2011-03-10 The best book on collaboration ever written Diane Flannery founding CEO Juma Ventures And now this classic book is even better much better Completely revised and updated the second edition is loaded with new tools and techniques Two powerful new chapters on agenda design A full section devoted to reaching closure More than twice as many tools for handling difficult dynamics 70 brand new pages and over 100 pages significantly improved
