The Color Of His Crest:

The Colors of Clay Beth Cohen,2006 The catalogue is truly excellent and makes an important contribution to the study of Greek Art Bryn Mawr Classical Review An overwhelming volume The subject matter is described in great detail in nine chapters Essential Choice This catalogue documents a major exhibition at the Getty Villa that was the first ever to focus on ancient Athenian terracotta vases made by techniques other than the well known black and red figure styles The exhibition comprised vases executed in bilingual coral red gloss outline Kerch style white ground and Six s technique as well as examples with added clay and gilding and plastic vases and additions The Colors of Clay opens with an introductory essay that integrates the diverse themes of the exhibition and sets them within the context of vase making in general a second essay discusses conservation issues related to several of the techniques A detailed discussion of the techniques featured in the exhibition precedes each section of the catalogue More than a hundred vases from museums in the United States and Europe are described in depth Julhi Catherine Lucile Moore,2011-09-23 Smith was stolen away in the night to be sacrificed to the great Julhi a mysterious being who controlled the denizens of Vonng excerptThe tale of Smith s scars would make a saga From head to foot his brown and sunburnt hide was scored with the marks of battle The eye of a connoisseur would recognize the distinctive tracks of knife and talon and rayburn the slash of the Martian drylandercrwg the clean thin stab of the Venusian stiletto the crisscross lacing of Earth s penal whip But one or two scars that he carried would have baffled the most discerning eye That curious convoluted red circlet for instance like some bloody rose on the left side of his chest just where the beating of his heart stirred the sun darkened flesh In the starless dark of the thick Venusian night Northwest Smith s pale steel eyes were keen and wary Save for those restless eyes he did not stir He crouched against a wall that his searching fingers had told him was stone and cold but he could see nothing and he had no faintest idea of where he was or how he had come there Upon this dark five minutes ago he had opened puzzled eyes and he was still puzzled The dark piercing pallor of his gaze flickered restlessly through the blackness searching in vain for some point of familiarity He could find nothing The dark was blurred and formless around him and though his keen senses spoke to him of enclosed spaces yet there was a contradiction even in that for the air was fresh and blowing He crouched motionless in the windy dark smelling earth and cold stone and faintly very faintly a whiff of something unfamiliar that made him gather his feet under him noiselessly and poise with one hand against the chill stone wall tense as a steel spring There was motion in the dark He could see nothing hear nothing but he felt that stirring come cautiously nearer He stretched out exploring toes found the ground firm underfoot and stepped aside a soundless pace or two holding his breath Against the stone where he had been leaning an instant before he heard the soft sound of hands fumbling with a queer sucking noise as if they were sticky Something exhaled with a small impatient sound In a lull of the wind he heard quite distinctly the slither over stone of something that was neither feet nor paws nor serpent coils but akin to all three The Colors of Space and Other Stories Marion Zimmer

Bradley,2016-01-11 FALCONS of NARABEDLA Voltage from Nowhere Somewhere on the crags above us I heard a big bird scream I turned to Andy knee deep in the icy stream beside me There s your eagle Probably smells that cougar I shot yesterday I started to reel in my line knowing what my brother s next move would be Get the camera and we ll try for a picture We crouched together in the underbrush watching as the big bird of prey wheeled down in a slow spiral toward the dead cougar Andy was trembling with excitement the camera poised against his chest his eyes glued in the image finder Golly he whispered almost prayerfully six foot wing spread maybe more The bird screamed again warily head cocked into the wind We were to leeward the scent of the carrion masked our enemy smell from him The eagle failed to scent or to see us swooping down and dropping on the cougar s head Andy s camera clicked twice The eagle thrust in its beak A red hot wire flared in my brain The bird the bird I leaped out of cover running swiftly across the ten foot clearing that separated us from the attacking eagle my hand tugging automatically at the hunting knife in my belt Andy s shout of surprised anger was a faraway noise in my ears as the eagle started away with flapping angry wings then in fury swept down at me pinions beating around my head I heard and felt the wicked beak dart in and thrust blindly upward with the knife ripped slashing hearing the bird s scream of pain and the flapping of wide wings A red haze spun around me International Association of Fire Chiefs Ann Swing Kelly,2000 The Colors of Space Marion Zimmer Bradley,2022-11-13 Bart Steele the recent graduate of the Space Academy on Earth learns that his father has been murdered but has sent him a message Bart I send money and instructions by my friend Do as he says Don t go home Dad In a far future space travel is common but the secret of traveling faster than the speed of light is jealously guarded by a non human race the Lhari Lhari are the species that is color blind in the sense that everything they see is monochromatic The pace is relentless and Bart must extort the secret from the Lhari by going undercover as one of them Design Your Own Coat of Arms Rosemary A.
