The Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield Vincent O'Sullivan, Margaret Scott, 2008-06-05 The fifth and final volume of the Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield covers the almost thirteen months during which her attention at first was firmly set on a last chance medical cure then finally on something very different if death came to seem inevitable how should one behave in the time that remained so one could truly say one lived Mansfield's biographers like her friends have wondered at the seemingly extraordinary decision to ditch conventional medicine for the bizarre choice of Gurdjieff's Institute for the Harmonious Development of Man at Fontainebleau These letters show the clarity of mind and will that led to that decision the courage and distress in making it and the gaiety even once it was made She went against what her education her husband and most of her friends would regard as reasonable as she opted to spend her last months with Russian migrants and a strange assortment of Gurdjieff disciples which she was not But Fontainebleau gave her the space and the incentive to shake free from the intellectualism that she thought the malaise of her time as she worked at kitchen chores took in the details of farm life tried to learn Russian and attempted to reach total honesty with herself If I were allowed one simple cry to God she wrote in one of her last letters that cry would be I want to be REAL The Edinburgh Edition of the Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield: Letters to correspondents A-J Katherine Mansfield, 2020 Organized by recipient this innovative four volume edition allows the reader to explore and share Katherine Mansfield's individual relationships via her letters Well known Mansfield scholars Claire Davison and Gerri Kimber have returned to the author's original letters retranscribing and fully annotating them incorporating recently discovered biographical material as well as previously unpublished letters As the four volumes in the Collected Letters reveal letter writing was an essential part of Mansfield's literary production Katherine Mansfield and the \(Post\)colonial Gerri Kimber, 2013-09-16 Explores Mansfield's identity as a post colonial writer in relation to her foremost reputation as a European modernist In seeking new possibilities for alignments with and resolutions to the contradictory agendas implied by the terms post colonial and modernist the essays in this volume address the clashing perspectives between Mansfield's life in Europe where her troubled self designation as the little colonial became a fertile source of her distinctive brand of literary modernism and her ongoing complex relationship with her New Zealand homeland The contributors investigate Mansfield's post colonial modernism in the context both of New Zealand settler colonial fiction and of her European literary inheritance Affinities with writers such as Edith Wharton and Robert Louis Stevenson reveal that home can be a diasporic place combining alienation with belonging The volume also registers initial responses to the widened scope for Mansfield scholarship launched by the first two volumes of the new Edinburgh Collected Works of Katherine Mansfield Includes Previously unpublished poetry and fiction Reports of current research findings on Katherine Mansfield An introduction by Janet Wilson Professor of English and Postcolonial Studies University of Northampton Reviews of recent publications on Mansfield and her contemporaries The Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield Katherine Mansfield,1984 Katherine Mansfield s letters are as finely written as her stories and prized by ordinary readers as much as by literary critics and feminists The fifth and final volume of this celebrated edition reveals Mansfield s courage wit independence and honesty in the final year of her life

Translation and Modernism Emily O. Wittman,2023-12-08 This innovative volume extends existing conversations on translation and modernism with an eye toward bringing renewed attention to its ethically complex appropriative nature and the subsequent ways in which modernist translators become co creators of the materials they translate Wittman builds on existing work at the intersection of the two fields to offer a more dynamic nuanced and wider lens on translation and modernism The book draws on scholarship from descriptive translation studies polysystems theory and literary translation to explore modernist translators appropriation of source texts and their continuous recalibrations of equivalence between source text and translation Chapters focus on translation projects from a range of writers including Beckett Garnett Lawrence Mansfield and Rhys with a particular spotlight on how women s translations and women translators innovations were judged more critically than those of their male counterparts Taken together the volume puts forth a fresh perspective on translation and modernism and of the role of the modernist translator as co creator in the translation process This book will be of particular interest to scholars in translation studies modernism reception theory and gender studies
