Witness to the Fullness of Light Skudlarek, William,Bäumer, Bettina,2011-04 Swami Abhishikatananda Henri Le Saux OSB was a French Benedictine monk who went to India in 1948 and devoted his life to becoming a bridge between East and West between Hinduism and Christianity To mark the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of this great pioneer of interreligious dialogue Monastic Interreligious Dialogue sponsored a symposium in January 2010 at Shantivanam the ashram he and Abb Jules Monchanin founded in 1950 This book charts the influence that Abhishikatananda had on Christianity in India on other spiritual seekers engaging with Hinduism and Christianity and the continuing importance of his work today

A Christian Pilgrim in India Harry Oldmeadow,2007-11-28 This book provides a biographical account of the remarkable Benedictine monk Henri Le Saux 1910 1973 who spent the last two and a half decades of his life in India where he immersed himself in Hindu spirituality It traces the central themes of his prolific writings on religious and mystical topics

Church, Liberation and World Religions Mario I. Aguilar,2012-11-02 This work proposes a theological investigation of the community of the Church as outlined by liberation theology and a possible conversation with liberation from suffering in Tibetan Buddhism What unites both is the human process of sublimation for others whereby liberation theologians as well as enlightened lamas give the best of themselves for the liberation of others At this stage of discussions between inclusivists and exclusivists this work proposes that dialogue with world religions and therefore with Buddhism is not about finding possible dogmatic similarities but a common place a common purpose through a common humanity

The World and God Are Not-Two Daniel Soars,2023-04-25 The World and God Are Not Two is a book about how the God in whom Christians believe ought to be understood The key conceptual argument that runs throughout is that the distinctive relation between the world and God in Christian theology is best understood as a non dualistic one The two God and World cannot be added up as separate enumerable realities or contrasted with each other against some common background because God does not belong in any category and creatures are ontologically constituted by their relation to the Creator In exploring the unique character of this distinctive relation Soars turns to Sara Grant s work on the Hindu tradition of Advaita Ved nta and the metaphysics of creation found in Thomas Aquinas He develops Grant s work and that of the earlier Calcutta School by drawing explicit attention to the Neoplatonic themes in Aquinas that provide some of the most fruitful areas for comparative engagement with Ved nta To the Christian the fact that the world exists only as dependent on God means that world and God must be ontologically distinct because God s existence does not depend on the world To the Advaitin this simultaneously means that World and God cannot be ontologically separate either The language of non duality allows us to see that both positions can be held coherently together without entailing any contradiction or disagreement at the level of fundamental ontology What it means to be world does not and cannot exclude what it means to be God
