Surviving College With Bipolar Disorder:

Surviving College with Bipolar Disorder Christina Marie, 2015-03-10 Christina Marie received her BS in Medical Technology in May 2014. She is a board certified Medical Technologist currently working in a hospital laboratory. During her freshman year of college in 2009, she experienced her first manic episode and since has had three more. In between, she has suffered through long dark depressions. Each year since her first episode, she has learned more about keeping her moods stable. In her book Surviving College with Bipolar Disorder, she hopes to share what she has learned. Not only will her book be educational, it will also submerge the reader into her life, helping the reader to understand what she has been through. Christina hopes that Surviving College with Bipolar Disorder can shed some light on the extreme difficulties presented by the disorder as well as expose how the medical community can improve their treatment. Surviving the Silence Charlotte Pierce-Baker, 2015-02-23 In this intelligent, stunning, and honest book, Charlotte Pierce Baker weaves together the accounts of black women who have been raped and who have felt that they had to remain silent in order to protect themselves and their race. It opens with the author's harrowing and courageous account of her rape and includes the stories of the author's own family's response, plus the voices of black men who have supported rape survivors. From Victim to Survivor Nicole Harper, 2015-09-04 This vulnerable and intensely honest book is an account of a life full of traumas and struggles, such as sexual abuse, mental illness, substance abuse, and an eating disorder. But with every dark turn, Nicole finds a profound way to use difficulty to better understand her true sense of being and purpose. She learns how to forgive herself and others and that, instead of being a victim to others' actions and her circumstances, she can take back the power over her life and continue on as a survivor. The story of Nicole's journey out of darkness is unique yet familiar, tragic yet triumphant, heartbreaking yet heartwarming. Despite my decades of experience with these illnesses, I found my eyes brimming with tears as I pored over her words. Her recovery is compelling, not just because she is stunningly authentic and honest, but also because her experiences ring true for so many individuals struggling against these pernicious, life-threatening mental illnesses. Dr. Kenneth Weiner, CEO of ERC. From Survive to Thrive Margaret S. Chisolm, 2021-10-26 The author details a plan for helping individuals who have a mental health issue flourish in their lives. Forgiving Others and Trusting God . . . a Handbook for Survivors of Child Abuse Experience Healing for Deep Wounds That Hinder Your Relationship with , The Child Survivor Joyanna L. Silberg, 2013-03-05 The Child Survivor is a clinically rich, comprehensive overview of the treatment of children and adolescents who have developed dissociative symptoms in response to ongoing developmental trauma. Joyanna Silberg, a widely respected authority in the field, uses case examples to illustrate hard-to-manage clinical dilemmas, such as children presenting with rage, reactions, amnesia, and dissociative shut-down. These behaviors are often survival strategies, and in The Child Survivor, practitioners will find practical management tools that are backed up by recent scientific advances in neurobiology. Clinicians on the front lines of treatment will come away from the book with an arsenal of therapeutic techniques that they can put into practice right away limiting the need for restrictive hospitalizations or out of home placements for their young clients
