Surprised By Meaning Science Faith And How We Make Sense Of Things:

Surprised by Meaning Alister E. McGrath, 2011 Through a non technical discussion of science and faith the author of the best selling The Dawkins Delusion explains how both science and faith help with the overriding human desire to make sense of things Original What's the Least I Can Believe and Still Be a Christian? New Edition with Study Guide Martin Thielen, 2013-02-13 Pastor and author Martin Thielen has compiled a list of ten things people need to believe and ten things they don't in order to be a Christian This lively and engaging book will be a help to seekers as well as a comfort to believers who may find themselves questioning some of the assumptions they grew up with With an accessible storytelling style that is grounded in solid biblical scholarship Thielen shows how Christians don't need to believe that sinners will be left behind to burn in hell or that it's heresy to believe in evolution And while we must always take the Bible seriously we don't always have to take it literally At the same time Christians do need to believe in Jesus his life his teachings his death and resurrection and his vision for the world A great benefit of those beliefs is that they provide promising answers to life's most profound questions including Where is God What matters most What brings fulfillment What about suffering Is there hope Thielen articulates centrist mainline Christianity in a way that's fresh and easy to understand and offers authentic Christian insights that speak to our deepest needs This new edition includes a leader's guide previously only available online and a new introduction from the author that reflects on the book's reception The leader's guide features unique and easily implemented aids for carrying out a seven week congregation wide initiative that will help local churches reach out to their communities More information is available at thielen.wjkbooks.com

Bridging Faith and Reason: Apologetics Beyond Concordism, Anachronism, and Scientism Dr. Octavian Caius Obeada, Bridging Faith and Reason Apologetics Beyond Concordism Anachronism and Scientism is a bold and thoughtful journey into the heart of modern Christian apologetics In a world where faith and science often seem at odds this book offers a refreshing invitation to move beyond forced harmonizations and engage both Scripture and science on their own terms Drawing on theology philosophy and cultural analysis the author critiques simplistic concordism warns against reading modern science into ancient texts and dismantles the illusion of scientism as the sole path to truth Instead the book champions a humble and intellectually honest apologetic method one that honors the literary richness of Scripture and the provisional nature of scientific inquiry Whether you are a skeptic seeker or believer this book offers a compelling vision of Christian faith as a dynamic thoughtful and deeply human pursuit of truth Discover how apologetics can become a bridge not a barrier between reason and revelation This beautifully written book gives the reader a deep philosophical dive into the interactions between theology and science The author presents thorough discussions of the complex ways that these disciplines have influenced conflicted with and reinforced each other over history and in the present He presents a comprehensive and enlightening view of concordism anachronism and scientism as dangers to be avoided and describes worldviews that treat philosophy theology and science as valid and valuable contributions to human knowledge and the understanding of reality A valuable resource for anyone interested in the details of the philosophical dynamics between science and faith Sy Garte Ph D Biochemist Author of The Works of His Hands A Scientist's Journey from Atheism to Faith A significant portion of the modern intellectual world rests on the unsupported foundation of scientism the typically self-serving notion that knowledge is gained only through science Yet what laboratory experiment demonstrated that In fact scientism is a parasite that feeds off the prestige of real working science It is a terrible philosophy with no answers for the most profound questions that tug on the human heart In his latest book Dr Octavian Caius Obeada takes the measure of scientism and shows the way to a balanced fruitful understanding of the relationship between faith and reason Michael J Behe author of Darwin's Black Box Martin Luther reportedly compared human nature to a drunken man on horseback who if he doesn't fall off on one side he'll fall off the other what he lacks is balance Balance is also hard to find in much contemporary thinking about theology philosophy science and how they are related to each other This fine volume by Dr Octavian Caius Obeada provides an important counterexample to this tendency a thorough fair historically informed and carefully argued account of faith reason and science that does justice to each and relates them in a balanced and fruitful way This will be a helpful resource for anyone hoping to stay on the saddle in this important but contested area I recommend it highly David A Horner D Phil Oxford Professor of Theology and Philosophy Talbot School of Theology Biola University In Bridging Faith and Reason Dr Caius Obeada offers a rigorous and balanced exploration of how Scripture and science can be engaged without distortion or reduction With intellectual clarity and deep conviction he challenges both concordist shortcuts and scientistic reductionism pointing instead to a more faithful apologetic of our faith grounded in humility and truth Having read this work I am encouraged by the way Dr Obeada equips believers pastors and even theologians to think critically to honor God s Word and to engage our culture with confidence and grace This book is an important contribution to the ongoing dialogue between faith theology and the sciences Sergiu M Br dean Pastor First Romanian Baptist Church Windsor Ontario This book offers a fresh and important perspective on the relationship between faith and science The author emphasizes that this relationship is not a battleground but rather a place of rich dialogue and shared wonder Throughout this book the central argument is that apologetics is not about transforming theology into science or vice versa Rather it is about building bridges finding how the revelations of modern science can coexist with the timeless truths of the Bible It is about holding together the human inquiry and the mystery of divine revelation In doing so the author is inviting both believers and skeptics into a deeper conversation about faith and science Rector Conf Univ Dr Daniel Mari Institutul Teologic Baptist Bucure ti I very much welcome author s call to broaden our standards of rationality and to cultivate virtues of provisionality and interpretive care in our apologetic work Honoring multiple modes of knowing scientific philosophical theological is not only desirable but necessary I also welcome Caius underlying assumption that such conversation is not merely about methods of knowing but about knowing before the One who calls us to truth George Ille PhD an Affiliate Professor of Theology and Philosophy at Asbury Theological Seminary Theological and Philosophical Explorations of the Call of Literature David Lonsdale, Emilia Di Rocco, Brett H. Speakman, 2025-05-23 This book explores the call of literature for both writers and their audiences and reflects on how literary works have informed and drawn from and continue to inform and draw from theology philosophy and sacred scripture Key questions addressed include the following How do creative writers and critics conceive this call What does it mean to speak of a vocation to write and what have theologians and philosophers got to say on the matter Is the spirit of literature always or necessarily an angel of light Or is the call of literature a siren song The essays by an international and interdisciplinary range of contributors discuss the work and testimony of writers from William Blake Gerard Manley Hopkins and R S Thomas to James Joyce Virginia Woolf and Michel Houellebecq Also examined are the ideas and influence of figures such as John Henry Newman who wrote that the importance of literature stems from our very nature and God given powers as human beings especially language This latest volume from The Power of the Word Project will be of interest to scholars from theology philosophy and literature Mere Apologetics Alister McGrath, 2016-03-17 The faith has been defended by great and articulate voices down the centuries But the challenges of scientific atheism mean we now need a fresh and flexible approach Alister McGrath is ideally placed to offer robust and intriguing insights into the biblical basis for apologetics and its historical uses He explores different pointers to faith such as our innate sense of longing for justice our appreciation for beauty and the order we see in the physical world Various approaches to sharing our faith with others are outlined and McGrath shows how explanations arguments stories and images are all right and useful ways to communicate what we believe Armed with the tools we need to engage others on this subject we are guided on choosing the best approach for our particular personality and how we can adapt our approach to suit our audience Practical insightful and warmly affirming this book will have you longing for a chance to put these techniques into practice A Science-Theology Rapprochement

Cyril Orji, 2018-10-12 This timely and fascinating work addresses questions of ultimate concerns for Christian believers by clarifying what religious believers statement God creates means in relation to the mechanistic determinism of science enthusiasts and the New Atheist Movement Drawing from the methodological works of C S Peirce Bernard Lonergan and Wolfhart Pannenberg the book creatively shows how the old science theology conflict or warfare can be turned into one of collaboration or rapprochement Using the works of these three thinkers it departs from the common practice of treating the field of science theology as an abstract mainstream theology The book takes a stand on contextual theology treating the problem posed by Richard Dawkins and his fellow New Atheists as one in need of a creative solution It also suggests that the dialogue between science and theology must take seriously the experiences and challenges from different social and cultural contexts The text shows how these experiences can lead to the kind of creative theological thinking we see in the works of Pannenberg and Lonergan who both explicate not only how an understanding of an evolutionary universe is compatible with the Christian doctrine of creation but also how a methodological comparison of science and theology reveals a common concern for human understanding and openness to divine agency Towards a Theology of Church Growth David Goodhew, 2016-03-03 Concern about church growth and decline is widespread and contentious yet theological reflection on church growth is scarce Reflecting on the Bible dogmatic theology and church history this book situates the numerical growth of the church within wider Christian theology Leading international scholars including Alister McGrath Benedicta Ward and C Kevin Rowe contribute a spectrum of voices from evangelical charismatic liberal and anglo catholic perspectives All contributors unite around the importance of seeking church growth provided this is situated within a nuanced theological framework This book offers a critique of decline theology which has been influential amongst theologians and churches and which assumes church growth is impossible and or unnecessary The contributors provide rich resources from scripture doctrine and tradition to underpin action to promote church growth and to stimulate further theological reflection on the subject The Archbishop of Canterbury provides the Foreword The Theology of Amos Yong and the New Face of Pentecostal Scholarship Wolfgang Vondey, Martin Mittelstadt, 2013-06-15 In The Theology of Amos Yong and the New Face of Pentecostal Scholarship Wolfgang Vondey and Martin William Mittelstadt gather a table of experts on one of the most influential voices in current Pentecostal theology. The authors provide an introduction and critical assessment of Yong's biblical foundations, hermeneutics, epistemology, philosophical presuppositions, trinitarian theology, theology of religions, ecumenical and interfaith relations, theology of disability, engagement with contemporary culture and participation in the theology and science conversation. These diverse topics are pursued through the complementary perspectives that together shape Yong's methodology, pneumatology, pentecostalism and the possibility of renewal. The contributors invite a more thorough reading of Yong's work and propose a more substantial engagement with the new face of Pentecostal scholarship. Contributors include Andrew Carver, Jacob D. Dodson, Jeff Hittenberger, Mark Mann, Martin William Mittelstadt, L. William Oliverio Jr., David A. Reed, Tony Richie, Christopher A. Stephenson, Steven M. Studebaker, Paraskev, Eve Tibbs, and Wolfgang Vondey.
