Surrealism and the Art of Crime Jonathan Paul Eburne, 2008 Corpses mark surrealism's path through the twentieth century providing material evidence of the violence in modern life Though the shifting group of poets artists and critics who made up the surrealist movement were witness to total war revolutionary violence and mass killing it was the tawdry reality of everyday crime that fascinated them Jonathan P Eburne shows us how this focus reveals the relationship between aesthetics and politics in the thought and artwork of the surrealists and establishes their movement as a useful platform for addressing the contemporary problem of violence both individual and political In a book strikingly illustrated with surrealist artworks and their sometimes gruesome source material Eburne addresses key individual works by both better known surrealist writers and artists including Andr Breton Louis Aragon Aim C saire Jacques Lacan Georges Bataille Max Ernst and Salvador Dal and lesser known figures such as Ren Crevel Simone Breton Leonora Carrington Benjamin P ret and Jules Monnerot For Eburne the art of crime denotes an array of cultural production including sensationalist journalism detective mysteries police blotters crime scene photos and documents of medical and legal opinion as well as the roman noir in particular the first crime novel of the American Chester Himes The surrealists collected and scrutinized such materials using them as the inspiration for the outpouring of political tracts pamphlets and artworks through which they sought to expose the forms of violence perpetrated in the name of the state its courts and respectable bourgeois values Concluding with the surrealists quarrel with the existentialists and their bitter condemnation of France's anticolonial wars Surrealism and the Art of Crime establishes surrealism as a vital element in the intellectual political and artistic history of the twentieth century

Surrealism Elza Adamowicz, 2006 This collection of essays inspired by Andr Breton's concept of the limites non frontiers of Surrealism focuses on the crossings intersections and margins of the surrealist movement rather than its divides and exclusion zones Some of the essays originated as papers given at the colloquium Surrealism Crossings Frontiers held at the Institute of Romance Studies University of London in November 2001 Surrealism is foregrounded as a trajectory rather than a fixed body of doctrines radically challenging the notion of frontiers The essays explore real and imaginary journeys as well as the urban d rives of the surrealists and situationists The concept of crossing central to a reading of the dynamics at work in Surrealism is explored in studies of the surrealist object which eludes or elides genres and explorations of the shifting sites of identity as in the work of Joyce Mansour or Andr Masson Surrealism's engagement with frontiers is further investigated through a number of revealing cases such as a political reading of 1930s photography the parodic rewriting of the popular locked room mystery or the surrealists cavalier redrawing of the map of the world The essays contribute to our understanding of the diversity and dynamism of Surrealism as an international and interdisciplinary movement

Surrealism, desire unbound Jennifer Mundy, Dawn Ades, Vincent Gille, 2001 Surrealism and the Occult Tessel Bauduin, 2025-10-01 This book offers a new perspective on a long debated issue the role of the occult in surrealism in particular under the leadership of French writer Andr Breton Based on thorough source analysis this study details how our understanding of occultism and esotericism as well as of their function in Bretonian surrealism changed significantly over time from the early 1920s to the late 1950s
