Surviving The Century Facing Climate Chaos And Other Global Challenges:

Surviving the Century Herbert Girardet, 2008-10-28 Meteorology Surviving the Century Herbert

Girardet, 2012-05-23 The combined analysis presented here of why current arrangements are failing the future and clear insights of the way to go offer us hope Mary Robinson President of Realising Rights Ethical Globalisation Initiative and former President of Ireland and United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights Environmental and human catastrophe looms ever larger for planet Earth Powerful action is required now to turn a deepening global crisis into an unprecedented opportunity for positive change This book shows how a dramatic transformation of how humans relate to the Earth and to one another can be achieved Surviving the Century is the first major publication by the World Future Council WFC a new international voice for future generations Reflecting the positive mission of the WFC each chapter addresses a different critical issue in a systematic and constructive way describing and analysing the topic before indicating real solutions The eight main issues covered are countering climate chaos renewable energy policy local farming systems rainforests and climate change creating sustainable cities cradle to cradle production systems a radical vision for trade and creating a living democracy Surviving the Century is a must have primer and action plan for all leaders in government business and NGOs and for all who want to be part of the historic opportunity to provide solutions to the greatest challenge humanity has ever faced Published with the World Future Council The Anthropocene and the Humanities Carolyn Merchant, 2020-01-01 A wide ranging and original introduction to the Anthropocene the Age of Humanity that offers fresh theoretical insights bridging the sciences and the humanities From noted environmental historian Carolyn Merchant this book focuses on the original concept of the Anthropocene first proposed by Paul Crutzen and Eugene Stoermer in their foundational 2000 paper It undertakes a broad investigation into the ways in which science technology and the humanities can create a new and compelling awareness of human impacts on the environment Using history art literature religion philosophy ethics and justice as the focal points Merchant traces key figures and developments in the humanities throughout the Anthropocene era and explores how these disciplines might influence sustainability in the next century Wide ranging and accessible this book from an eminent scholar in environmental history and philosophy argues for replacing the Age of the Anthropocene with a new Age of Sustainability Environment and Food Colin Sage, 2011-07-07 This timely book provides a thorough introduction to the inter relationship of food and the environment Its primary purpose is to bring to our attention the multiplicity of linkages and interconnections between what we eat and how this impacts on the earth s resources Having a better idea of the consequences of our food choices might encourage us to develop more sustainable practices of production and consumption in the decades ahead Although human societies have over time brought under control a large proportion of the earth s resources for the purpose of food production we remain subject to the effective functioning of global ecosystem services The author highlights the vital importance of these services and explains why we should be concerned about the depletion of freshwater resources soil fertility decline and loss of biological diversity The book also tackles some of the enormous challenges of our era climate change to which the agri food system is both a major contributor and a vulnerable sector and the prospect of significantly higher energy prices arising from the peaking of oil and gas supplies which will reveal how dependent the food system has become upon cheap fossil fuels Such challenges are likely to have significant implications for the long term functioning of global supply chains and raise profound questions regarding the nutritional security of the world's population Taken together the book argues that a re examination of the assumptions and practices underpinning the contemporary food system is urgently required Environment and Food is a highly original inter disciplinary and accessible text that will be of interest to students and the wider public genuinely interested in and concerned by the state of the world's food provisioning system It is richly illustrated with figures and makes extensive use of boxes to highlight relevant examples

Climate Change and the Bay of Bengal Sanjay Chaturvedi,Vijay Sakhuja,2015-10-16 Climate Change and the Bay of Bengal argues that in the era of climate change radically different understandings of security and sovereignty are at work It questions the geopolitics of fear and the manner in which metanarratives of climate change tend to privilege the global and national scales over other scales especially the regional and the local The authors argue in favour of a new imagination of the Bay of Bengal space as a semi enclosed sea embedded in a large marine ecosystem under the relevant provisions of the UNCLOS that impose various obligations upon its signatories to cooperate at a regional level Such an imagination anchored in geographies of hope should not remain confined to official domains and discourses but become a part of popular socio spatial consciousness through a regional public diplomacy reaching out to the grassroots level A Bay of Bengal regional seas programme under the auspices of UNEP should be conceptualized and operationalized in a manner that explicitly factors in climate change consequences into the existing understandings and approaches to environmental human security in the region Rebuilding Sustainable Communities with Vulnerable Populations after the Cameras Have Gone Adenrele

Awotona,2012-03-15 This volume focuses on the status of the elderly and the disabled after disasters globally as well as the challenges of post earthquake rebuilding in Haiti The International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies has estimated that between 1987 and 2007 about 26 million older people were affected each year by natural disasters alone and that this figure could more than double by 2050 due to the rapidly changing demographics of ageing People with disabilities physical medical sensory or cognitive are equally at risk of utter neglect during and after disasters The Australian Agency for International Development estimates that 650 million people across the world have a disability and about 80 per cent of them live in developing countries Similarly before the January 2010 earthquake Haiti was a country with tremendous development needs and numerous impediments to development according to Congresswoman Maxine Waters when introducing a Resolution in the US House of Representatives to cancel Haiti's debts in March 2007 These impediments included an overwhelming burden of international debt lack of personal and community assets and very little or no internal and external capacities all of which have been exacerbated by the aftermath of the earthquake It was against this background that the Center for Rebuilding Sustainable Communities after Disasters at the University of Massachusetts Boston organized two international Conferences in 2010 in April on Rebuilding Sustainable Communities in Haiti in the wake of the January Earthquake and in July on Rebuilding Sustainable Communities with the Elderly and Disabled People after Disasters This edited book consists of selected papers that were presented at these academic events The topics include Disaster Experiences of the Elderly and the Disabled in Nigeria The Vulnerability of Elderly People in the Aftermath of Earthquakes in Iran Methods for Assessing and Developing Understanding of Resiliency in Communities The Tuareg s traditional Shelter for Disaster Mitigation and Reconstruction in Libya and People with Disabilities in Haiti Before and After the 2010 Earthquake Non-Violence and Ecological Imperatives Ramin Jahanbegloo, Pooja Sharma, 2025-08-05

Violence impregnates human life in many ways We do violence to individuals or groups We do violence to plants and animals We do violence to the planet Earth However Nature will not survive our arrogance and patterns of exploiting and destroying the biosphere if we do not break the cycle of violence As such any moral effort to stop barbaric consumerism and chaotic nihilism is simultaneously the possibility of making life and biodiversity flourish on Earth The moral imperative is thus also an ecological imperative Therefore the question is how can we talk about non violence in the current ecological crisis Put differently we can also ask how can non violence be brought to our ecological concerns Martin Luther King Jr once said Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere The notion of injustice becomes all the more crucial when applied to excluding animals and plants from the history of our planet This eco moral crisis must become more public as the ecological trajectory of the Earth foreshadows a very troublesome future Non violence and Ecological Imperative is a contribution to the relevance and potential of the philosophy of non violence in showing clearly that our viable ecological future depends on attitudes and strategies that are rooted in the Gandhian moment of civilising humanity as an antidote to the violent modern techno industrial way of life The interdependence and cooperation between humans and nature are inevitable Non exploitative and non violent prerequisites of Gandhian ideology entail that interdependence and cooperation must be based on altruistic values and not on self interest and materialistic values This signifies immeasurable love not only among humans but also with nature Thus absolute love substitutes greed Non possession from an absolute love revolutionises the socio ecological paradigm of human civilisation Various ecological scientists and economists have asserted the need for revisiting the harmony between human activities and nature Stern et al 1998 concluded that economic growth would never result in improvement in environmental quality Arrow et al 1995 concluded that economic growth is not a panacea for environmental quality Meadows et al 1972 in his book The Limits to Growth claimed that environmental limits would cause the collapse of the world economic system Against this backdrop Gandhi advocated the process of recycling and minimising waste so that humans adopt a lifestyle that integrates with the ecosystem Humans must dwell in a life that converges with the law of nature and maintains ecological harmony This notion of continuity of life is inspired by the Gandhian philosophy of non violence and absolute love The moment there is a break in continuity it results in violence leading to unrest or conflict dismantling the process of continuity An International Humanitarian Organisation James David Parker,2017-05-11 This book presents a concise account of our current approach to the climate crisis and provides a clear view of the current situation and the history of the protocols and promises that have failed It offers substantial international solutions exploring the urgent need for an international ethical and progressive alliance that has authority beyond economic self interests and arguing in favour of shifting our focus to reducing the manufacture of greenhouse gases rather than concentrating on the reduction of carbon emissions The book goes on to explore why solutions can only emerge by changing the very international structure of governance a structure that is now conditioned by out dated modes created before the collective understanding of the Earth as one whole It proposes that these solutions can only happen if they are based on an international unity emerging from our collective expertise ethics and intelligence among humanity today Sustainability in America's Cities Matt Slavin,2013-02-22 Sustainability is more than the latest green buzzword It represents a new way of viewing the interactions of human society and the natural world Sustainability in America s Cities highlights how America s largest cities are acting to develop sustainable solutions to conflicts between development and environment As sustainability rises to the top of public policy agendas in American cities it is also emerging as a new discipline in colleges and universities Specifically designed for these educational programs this is the first book to provide empirically based multi disciplinary case studies of sustainability policy planning and practice in action It is also valuable for everyone who designs and implements sustainability initiatives including policy makers public sector and non profit practitioners and consultants Sustainability in America s Cities brings together academic and practicing professionals to offer firsthand insight into innovative strategies that cities have adopted in renewable energy and energy efficiency climate change green building clean tech and green jobs transportation and infrastructure urban forestry and sustainable food production Case studies examine sustainability initiatives in a wide range of American cities including San Francisco Honolulu Philadelphia Phoenix Milwaukee New York City Portland Oregon and Washington D C The concluding chapter ties together the empirical evidence and recounts lessons learned for sustainability planning and policy Green Business Nevin Cohen,2011-06-28 Annotation Presenting 150 signed entries this book provides an overview of key principles approaches strategies and tools businesses have used to reduce environmental impacts and contribute to sustainability
