Sustainable Development Setwit Transactions On The Built Environment:

Sustainable Development (2 Volume Set) C.A. Brebbia, 2015-10-06 This collection of research papers presented at meetings organised by the Wessex Institute of Technology WIT concerns a variety of issues relating to the area of sustainable development WIT has a long and very successful record of organising conferences on the topic of sustainability which requires an interdisciplinary approach Any sustainable solutions that are derived solely from the perspective of a single discipline may have unintended damaging consequences that create new problems Thus effective sustainable solutions require the collaboration of scientists and engineers from various disciplines as well as planners architects environmentalists policy makers social scientists and economists The contents of this book reflect that interdisciplinary approach and include topics under the main areas of Sustainable development and planning Disaster management Air pollution Urban transport Ecosystems and Water resources management

Urban Transport XXI C.A. Brebbia, J.L. Miralles i Garcia, V. de Esteban Chapapria, 2015-06-02 Urban Transport XXI contains the proceedings of the 21st International Conference on Urban Transport and the Environment The series of annual conferences organised by the Wessex Institute was first held in 1995 Transportation in urban areas with its related environmental and social impacts is a topic of significant concern for policymakers in both municipal and central government and for the urban citizens who need effective and efficient transport systems Urban transport systems require considerable studies to devise and then safeguard their operational use maintenance and safety Transportation systems produce significant environmental impacts and can enhance or degrade the quality of life in urban centres Clearly the challenge of providing effective and efficient transport systems in urban settings remains an acute concern with financial political and environmental constraints limiting the ability of transport system planners and operators to deliver the high quality outcomes expected by the public Papers cover such topics as Urban Transport Planning and Management Urban Transport Strategies Public Transport Systems Environmental Aspects Economic and Social Impact Safety and Security Travel Behaviour Studies Customer Satisfaction Transportation Modelling and Simulation Infrastructure Development Intelligent and Advanced Transport Systems Transportation Integration City Logistics Resilience and Inter modal Transport Systems Mass Transport Strategies Social Impacts Freight Transport Railway Systems Transport Governance and Administration Port and City Mobility and Public Space Life Cycle Management

Urban Growth and the Circular Economy S. Syngellakis, J. Melgarejo, 2018-08-29 Presented at the 1st International Conference on Urban Growth and the Circular Economy that was held in Alicante Spain the papers included in this book focus on the continuing and rapid growth of cities and their regions of influence and how that has led to the need to find new solutions which allow for promoting their sustainable development The quest for the Sustainable City has until recently focused on the efficient use of resources with the application of technical advances giving rise to the definition of SMART Cities The economic model emphasised however is still linear in the sense that the design and consumption follows the pattern of extraction of natural resources manufacturing product usage and waste disposal The continuous growth of urban population has recently given rise to the emergence of a new model which responds better to the challenges of natural resource depletion as well as waste management This model has been called the circular economy The circular economy is a recent concept based on the reuse of what up to now has been considered wastes reintroducing them into the productive cycle The objective of the circular economy is to reduce consumption and achieve savings in terms of raw materials water and energy thus contributing to the preservation of resources in order to reach sustainable development One of the most important of these resources is water which is becoming a scarce commodity in an ever expanding world whose population demands a better standard of living Water is required for agricultural purposes as well as by industry in addition to its use by the general population The recycling of water is an essential component of the circular economy There is no possibility for the success of a long term economic policy without addressing the problems of natural resources and environmental pollution which will affect the reuse of materials and products The current market economy based on a linear model from resource extraction manufacturing consumption and waste disposal has not proved a long term suitable solution in spite of the substantial efforts made in reducing its environmental impacts This is largely due to the continuous population growth in a society that demands high standards of living thus requiring an ever increasing share of natural resources

Sustainable Development and Planning VII Ö. Özçevik, C.A. Brebbia, S.M. Şener, 2015-05-19 This book contains the proceedings of the seventh in a series of biennial conferences on the topic of sustainable regional development that began in 2003 Organised by the Wessex Institute the conference series provides a common forum for all scientists specialising in the range of subjects included within sustainable development and planning In order to ensure that planning and development can meet our present needs without compromising future generations planners environmentalists architects engineers policy makers and economists must work together The use of modern technologies in planning gives us new potential to monitor and prevent environmental degradation In recent years in many countries an increase in spatial problems has led to planning crises Planning problems are often associated with uneven development deterioration of the quality of urban life and destruction of the environment The increasing urbanisation of the world coupled with the global issues of environmental pollution resource shortage and economic restructuring demand that we ensure a decent quality of life for our cities Other environments such as rural areas forests coastal regions and mountains face their own problems that urgently require solutions in order to avoid irreversible damage Effective strategies for management should consider planning and regional development two closely related disciplines and emphasise the demand to handle these matters in an integrated way The papers in the book cover such topics as Regional Planning City Planning Sustainability and the Built Environment Cultural Heritage Environmental Management Environmental Policies and Planning Sustainable Tourism Resources Management Social and Political Issues Rural Developments Sustainable Solutions in Emerging Countries Transportation Energy Resources Environmental
