Sustainable Food Planning Evolving Theory And Practice:

Sustainable food planning: evolving theory and practice André Viljoen, 2023-09-04 Half the world's population is now urbanised and cities are assuming a larger role in debates about the security and sustainability of the global food system. Hence planning for sustainable food production and consumption is becoming an increasingly important issue for planners, policymakers, designers, farmers, suppliers, activists, business and scientists alike. The rapid growth of the food planning movement owes much to the unique multi-functional character of food systems. In the wider contexts of global climate change, resource depletion, a burgeoning world population, competing food production systems and diet-related public health concerns, new paradigms for urban and regional planning capable of supporting sustainable and equitable food systems are urgently needed. This book addresses this urgent need. By working at a range of scales and with a variety of practical and theoretical models, this book reviews and elaborates definitions of sustainable food systems and begins to define ways of achieving them. Four different themes have been defined as entry points into the discussion of sustainable food planning. These are: 1. urban food governance, 2. integrating health, environment and society, 3. urban agriculture, 4. planning and design. This is an important compilation on a timely topic. It brings together the work of planners and designers from both sides of the Atlantic and challenges us to think about how to create food systems that deliver healthy, just and sustainable communities and vital places. The book moves dexterously between the grassroots and policy halls and draws valuable lessons for theory and practice. Dr Kami Pothukuchi, Department of Urban Studies Planning, Wayne State University. To address the problems of urban food production, we need to look at the city in a completely different way. This timely book will act as an important source for those who have an ethical interest not only in food but in improving the quality and justice of life in our city communities. Prof Flora Samuel, School of Architecture, University of Sheffield and member of Royal Institute of British Architects Research and Development Committee. This publication provides a lot of food for thought not just for persons professionally involved in the food sector and officials dealing with national food policies but especially for local and regional authorities, urban planners and architects, NGOs and community-based organisations, health and environmental officers and concerned consumers. Against the background of the growing awareness of the elevated social, health and ecological costs of the mainstream globalized agri-food system, this book analyses the emergence of a new vision and many initiatives that seek to reconnect sustainable production with sustainable consumption. Hence the book delivers what is promised in its title: it discusses new concepts related to food and sustainable urban regional planning based on a critical review of innovative practices at various levels. Ir Henk de Zeeuw, Director RUAF Foundation. For those who work to address the future challenges facing city development, this book is a must. Why? Because today practitioners and professionals are being asked to understand urban food production within a social, economic and ecological context. This book shows us how these connections are being made. The chapters are accessible and fascinating and will help beginners and experts to deal

Cities of Farmers Julie C. Dawson,Alfonso Morales,2016-11-15 Full scale food production in cities is it an impossibility Or is it a panacea for all that ails urban communities Today it s a reality but many people still don t know how much of an impact this emerging food system is having on cities and their residents This book showcases the work of the farmers activists urban planners and city officials in the United States and Canada who are advancing food production They have realized that when it s done right farming in cities can enhance the local ecology foster cohesive communities and improve the quality of life for urban residents Cities of Farmers enables readers to understand and contribute to their local food system whether they are raising vegetables in a community garden setting up a farmers market or formulating regulations for farming and composting within city limits

Routledge Handbook of Urban Food Governance Ana Moragues-Faus,Jill K. Clark,Jane Battersby,Anna Davies,2022-10-20 The Routledge Handbook of Urban Food Governance is the first collection to reflect on and compile the currently dispersed histories concepts and practices involved in the increasingly popular field of urban food governance Unpacking the power of urban food governance and its capacity to affect lives through the transformation of cities and the global food system the Handbook is structured into five parts The first part focuses on histories of urban food governance to trace the historical roots of current dynamics and provide an impetus for the critical lens on urban food governance threaded through the Handbook The second part presents a broad overview of the different frames theories and concepts that have informed urban food governance scholarship Drawing on the previous parts part three engages with the practice of urban food governance by analysing plans policies and programmes implemented in different contexts Part four presents current knowledge on how urban food governance involves different agencies that operate across scales and sectors The final part asks key figures in this field what the future holds for urban food governance in the midst of pressing societal and environmental challenges Containing chapters written by emerging and established scholars as well as practitioners the Handbook provides a state of the art global and diverse examination of the role of cities in delivering sustainable and secure food outcomes as well as providing refreshed theoretical and practical tools to understand and transform urban food governance to enact more sustainable and just futures The Routledge Handbook of Urban Food Governance will be essential reading for students scholars practitioners and policymakers interested in food governance urban studies sustainable food and agriculture and sustainable living more broadly Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions Undine Giseke, Maria Gerster-Bentaya, Frank Helten, Matthias Kraume, Dieter Scherer, Guido Spars, Fouad Amraoui, Abdelaziz Adidi, Said Berdouz, Mohamed Chlada, Majid Mansour, Mohamed Mdafai, 2015-09-07 This book demonstrates how agriculture can play a determining role in integrated climate optimised urban development Agriculture within urban growth centres today is more than an economic or social left over or a niche practice It is instead a complex system that offers multiple potentials for interaction with the urban system Urban open space and agriculture can be linked to a productive green infrastructure this forms new urban rural linkages in the urbanizing region and helps shape the city But in order to do this agriculture has to be seen as an integral part of the urban fabric and it has to be put on the local agenda Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions takes the example of Casablanca one of the fastest growing cities in North Africa to investigate this approach The creation of synergies between the urban and rural in an emerging megacity is demonstrated through pilot projects design solutions and multifunctional modules These synergies assure greater resource efficiency particularly regarding the use and reuse of water and they strengthen regional food security and the social integration of multiple spheres A transdisciplinary research approach brings together different scientific disciplines and local actors into a process of integrated knowledge production The book will have a long lasting legacy and is essential reading for researchers planners practitioners and policy makers who are working on urban development and urban agricultural strategies Exhibitions and the Development of Modern Planning Culture Robert Freestone, Marco Amati, 2016-12-05 The evolution of city planning theory and practice in the first half of the twentieth century was captured and driven by a range of exhibitionary practices in a variety of settings globally from international expos to local public halls The agendas of the promoters varied but exhibitions generally drew their social legitimacy from their status as appropriate educative agencies of citizenship Bringing together a range of international case studies this volume explores the highly visual genre of public planning exhibitions worldwide In doing so it provides a unique lens on the development of modern urban planning and design from the late 19th century to the present day Focussing mainly on the first half of the 20th century it looks in particular at historic exhibitions which sought to transform urban society's understanding of the possibilities of planning as a force for social betterment The visuality of presentation contemporary reactions and outcomes for the planning profession and the community are explored to make for a unique innovative and attractive approach to the history of planning ideas The five major themes are the visual representation of ideas and ideologies institutions and individuals involved the broader context of display and the impacts and implications for the development planning culture With contributors including Karl Fischer John Gold Carola Hein Peter Larkham Javier Monclus and Mark Tewdwr Jones the dominant intellectual paradigm further unifying the collection is planning history Informal Urban Agriculture Michael Hardman, Peter J. Larkham, 2014-10-01 The book explores how unused and under used urban spaces from grass verges roundabouts green spaces have been made more visually interesting and more productive by informal and usually illegal groups known as guerrilla gardeners The book focuses on groups in the English Midlands but the work is set in a broad international context and reveals how and why they undertake this illegal activity Guerrilla gardening is usually viewed uncritically and promoted as a worthwhile activity this study provides a more balanced evaluation and focuses on its contribution in terms of local food production Future Directions for the European Shrinking City William J.V. Neill, Hans Schlappa, 2016-01-13 Urban shrinkage is rising to the top of the political agenda in Europe as more cities are shrinking in the prolonged economic downturn we encounter Coupled with unprecedented budgetary austerity and rapidly ageing populations stagnating and shrinking cities have emerged as a key challenge for policy and practice for decades to come Local actors need to find new ways of collaborating across sectors agencies and disciplines to unlock opportunities for interventions that mitigate the worst effects of urban shrinkage and long term decline Future Directions for the European Shrinking City focuses on policy and planning interventions that can be taken by municipalities and their local stakeholders to tackle stagnation and decline With case studies from a range of European countries this book proposes ways to tackle shrinkage through governance policy planning social economic and management interventions Edited by William J V Neill and Hans Schlappa this book is ideally suited for policy makers and practitioners in urban planning regeneration and economic development dealing with pressing spatial and socio economic issues on a European scale Activist Planning Case Studies 1990-2020 Tore Sager, 2023-05-10 Activist planning shows how communities neighbourhoods and social movements use their own alternative spatial planning to oppose interventions from the government This book is a systematic overview of scholarly reported activist planning cases It includes descriptions of the various kinds of activist planning and contains a comprehensive bibliography of academic publications related to the 164 cases The book informs the planning community what activist planning is in practice and offers a classification scheme where all reported cases fit in This text is needed because no comprehensive collection of activist planning cases exists nor does a classification comprising all types of activist planning There is to date no database of cases and associated literature providing researchers and students with an authoritative source The search for cases in the English language has been global and the cases and 122 supplementary examples are sorted by country and world region Australasia Europe the Global South and North America
