Abstract

We report on the development of two reference corpora for the analysis of Sepedi-English code-switched speech in the context of automatic speech recognition. For the first corpus, possible English events were obtained from an existing corpus of transcribed Sepedi-English speech. The second corpus is based on the analysis of radio broadcasts: actual instances of code switching were transcribed and reproduced by a number of native Sepedi speakers. We describe the process to develop and verify both corpora and perform an initial analysis of the newly produced data sets. We find that, in naturally occurring speech, the frequency of code switching is unexpectedly high for this language pair, and that the continuum of code switching (from unmodified embedded words to loanwords absorbed into the matrix language) makes this a particularly challenging task for speech recognition systems.

Keywords Code switching · Speech corpus · Multilingual speech recognition · Sepedi

1 Introduction

Many bilingual and multilingual environments are characterised by the presence of one dominant language or lingua franca and a number of other, typically diverse languages. The dominant language is often a language that is widely spoken, such as English or French. Speakers whose primary (or matrix) language is one of the other – often smaller, in terms of number of first language speakers – languages used in the presence of a dominant language, typically use words from the dominant language when they converse in the matrix language.

Engaged Language Policy and Practices Kathryn A. Davis, Prem Phyak, 2016-12-08 Engaged Language Policy and Practices re envisions language policy and planning as an engaged approach drawing on and portraying theoretical and educational equity perspectives It calls for the right to language policy making in which all concerned communities parents students educators and advocates collectively imagine new strategies for resisting global neoliberal marginalization of home languages and cultural identities This book subsequently emphasizes the means by which engaged dialectic processes can inform and clarify language policy making decisions that promote equity In other words rather than descriptions of outcomes the authors emphasize the need to detail the means by which local regional actors resist and transform inequitable policies These descriptions of processes thereby provide all actors with ideological pedagogical and equity policy tools that can inform situated school and community policy making This book depicts ways in which engaged language policy embodies the intersection of critical inquiry participant involvement and ongoing engaged language planning processes It further offers an alternative to the traditional top down approach to language education policy making Engaged Language Policy and Practices is essential reading for scholars teachers students communities and others concerned with worldwide language and identity equity

Point of View, Perspective, and Focalization Peter Hühn, Wolf Schmid, Jörg Schönert, 2009-05-08 Stories do not actually exist in the fictional or factual world but are constituted structured and endowed with meaning through the process of mediation i e they are represented and transmitted through systems of verbal visual or audio visual signs The terms usually proposed to describe aspects of mediation especially perspective point of view and focalization have yet to bring clarity to this field which is of central importance not only for narratology but also for literary and media studies One crucial problem about mediation concerns the dimensions of its modeling effect particularly the precise status and constellation of the mediating agents i e author narrator or presenter and characters The question is how are the structure and the meaning of the story conditioned by these different positions in relation to the mediated happenings perceived from outside and or inside the storyworld In this volume fourteen articles by international scholars from seven different countries address these problems anew from various angles reviewing the sub categorization of mediation and re specifying its dimensions both in literary texts and other media such as drama and theater film and computer games

Not Without a Fight Helen Zille, 2016-10-07 Helen Zille s long awaited autobiography is one of the most fascinating political stories of our time Zille takes the reader back to her humble family origins her struggle with anorexia as a young woman her early career as a journalist for the Rand Daily Mail and her involvement with the End Conscription Campaign and the Black Sash She documents her early days in the Democratic Party and the Democratic Alliance at a time when the party was locked in a no holds barred factional conflict And she chronicles the intense political battles to become mayor of Cape Town leader of the DA and premier of the Western Cape in the face of dirty tricks from the ANC and infighting within her own party This is a story about political intrigue and treachery floor crossing and unlikely coalitions phone tapping and intimidation false criminal charges and judicial commissions It documents Zille s courageous fight against corruption and state capture and her efforts to realign politics and entrench accountability And it describes a mother s battle to raise children in the pressured world of South African politics This book is as frank honest and unflinching as Helen Zille herself and will appeal to anyone interested in the story of South African politics over the past fifty years Not Eleven Languages Leketi
