Library of Congress Magazine ,2016

The Vinyl Revival, Gender, and Collecting Aesthetics Veronica Skrimsjö, 2025-09-08 The book explores record collecting and vinyl consumption in the 21st century within the context of the vinyl revival The book highlights gender and how gender disparity is expressed in vinyl communities Veronica Skrimsjö considers vinyl consumerism and collecting and how the collector identifies themselves within the socio political environment of the Global North with a particular focus on gender The book includes considerations of Record Store Day DIY and DI together cultures as well as the historic context needed to evaluate record collecting in the 21st century The work is aimed at both an academic and a general readership and as such strikes a more informal tone Personal experiences are emphasised throughout because vinyl consumers are not a homogenous group and it is only via personal experiences that we can understand the complexity of consumption The personal experience also helps make the content more relatable which is crucial as old stereotypes helped distance the collector from the everyday consumer Readers will benefit from a different perspective on record collecting and consumptions as the book highlights active creative consumption and provides an in depth innovative analysis of how gender inequality is constructed within this context

The Routledge Companion to Creativities in Music Education Clint Randles, Pamela Burnard, 2022-12-30 Viewing the plurality of creativity in music as being of paramount importance to the field of music education The Routledge Companion to Creativities in Music Education provides a wide ranging survey of practice and research perspectives Bringing together philosophical and applied foundations this volume draws together an array of international contributors including leading and emerging scholars to illuminate the multiple forms creativity can take in the music classroom and how new insights from research can inform pedagogical approaches In over 50 chapters it addresses theory practice research change initiatives community and broadening perspectives A vital resource for music education researchers practitioners and students this volume helps advance the discourse on creativities in music education     New Life for Archaeological Collections Rebecca Allen, Ben Ford, 2019-05-01 New Life for Archaeological Collections explores solutions to what archaeologists are calling the curation crisis that is too much stuff with too little research analysis and public interpretation This volume demonstrates how archaeologists are taking both large and small steps toward not only solving the dilemma of storage but recognizing the value of these collections through inventorying and cataloging curation rehousing artifact conservation volunteer and student efforts and public exhibits Essays in this volume highlight new questions and innovative uses for existing archaeological collections Rebecca Allen and Ben Ford advance ways to make the evaluation and documentation of these collections more accessible to those inside and outside of the scholarly discipline of archaeology Contributors to New Life for Archaeological Collections introduce readers to their research while opening new perspectives for scientists and students alike to explore the world of archaeology These essays illuminate new connections between cultural studies and the general availability of archaeological research and information Drawing from the experience of university professors government agency professionals and cultural resource managers this volume represents a unique commentary on education research and the archaeological community     Drawing multimodality's bigger picture: Metalanguages and corpora for multimodal analyses Janina Wildfeuer, Claudia Lehmann, 2024-07-30 Multimodality has most recently been described no longer as a research field or discipline on its own but rather as a stage of development within a field Bateman 2022a 49 The realization that 1 many different fields and disciplines now enter their own multimodal phase with new interest in multimodal phenomena and that 2 these disciplines all commit to the development of multimodality research with their own theoretical principles and methodological tools brings with it not only an immense breadth of potential analytical objects but also many new meta methodological issues We need to find ways of combining insights from the variously imported theoretical and methodological backgrounds brought along by previous non multimodal stages of any contributing disciplines Bateman 2022a 49 At the same time the search for a meta methodology for multimodal analyses is pushed further by the recent trend towards more empirical approaches to multimodal phenomena and the development and use of larger multimodal corpora that just as well require theoretical and methodological refinements We need to develop ways of strengthening claims with robustly applicable methods which nevertheless remain firmly anchored theoretically Bateman 2022b 64 For a productive handling of these issues disciplinary triangulation and finding a common language or metalanguage Maton newest results from data collection methods and multimodal corpus analyses that expand the current quantitative work by e g applying existing theories and methods to larger datasets or exploring the newest communication technologies We are particularly interested in seeing how works addressing these aspects contribute to finding ways of productive triangulation and integration for and within a meta methodology for multimodality research This Research Topic aims to bring together scholars from a variety of disciplines interested in multimodality research to review explore and advance the contributions that John Bateman as one of the key figures in multimodality research has made to both theory and method building as well as to the driving forward of multimodal empirical and corpus analyses We welcome contributions that for example critically address the theoretical and methodological advancements that John Bateman has made with regard to the notions of semiotic mode discourse semantics genre textuality etc apply one of the many approaches that John Bateman has developed for the empirical analysis of multimodal artefacts e g the GeM model for page based documents his work on multimodal film and audio visual analysis and the discourse semantics and or annotation approach to visual narratives to larger corpora or currently newly developing communicative situations expand on one of the abovementioned aspects with new ideas and insights from disciplines that have not yet been included in multimodality research
