Reading for Pleasure: International Perspectives Teresa Cremin, Sarah McGeown, 2025-03-19 Growing evidence of the vital role reading for pleasure plays in children and young people's academic outcomes and socio-emotional wellbeing has placed it high on the agenda in both educational policy and practice. This valuable collection draws upon a range of disciplinary perspectives and methodological approaches to explore how reading for pleasure is experienced and enacted and highlights the implications and benefits of such volitional reading in the lives and learning of children and young people. It offers contributions from leading international researchers on current evidence and literature within the field identifying the causes and consequences of reading for pleasure and framing this within the context of understanding readers and applying this to developing effective pedagogical practices. With chapters examining how we may shape the reading experience, this book is divided into four sections: Understanding readers including factors such as motivation, gender and identity; The nature of texts including fiction, sensory and digital texts; Pedagogies and practices exploring agency, book talk and reading aloud; Environments conducive to reading for pleasure including homes, school libraries, classrooms and communities. Presenting diverse and interdisciplinary perspectives, this will be a key text for researchers, teacher educators and policy makers who wish to become better informed in their thinking, discourse and practice when supporting children and young people in learning to read for pleasure.

Mystery Genre Evolution Ethan Parker, AI, 2025-02-19 Mystery Genre Evolution offers a comprehensive exploration into the enduring appeal of mystery fiction by dissecting its evolution, market dynamics and reader preferences. This book uniquely blends literary analysis with sales data analysis, revealing insights applicable to both industry professionals and avid readers. You'll discover how the genre's adaptability allows it to continuously reinvent itself, maintaining relevance across generations. The book highlights the cyclical nature of subgenres and recurring motifs, linking the rise of detective fiction, for example, to urbanization and anxieties of the late 19th century. The book progresses methodically, starting with the historical development of mystery fiction and dissecting subgenres like Golden Age detective stories and psychological thrillers. It transitions into a quantitative analysis of market trends, utilizing publishing statistics and sales figures. Then, the book dives into reader preferences, employing data mining techniques to extract insights from book reviews and online forums.

Reading Bestsellers Danielle Fuller, DeNel Rehberg Sedo, 2023-04-27 Readers are essential agents in the production of bestsellers, but bestsellers are not essential to readers' leisure pursuits. The starting point in this Element is readers' opinions about and their uses of bestselling fiction in English. Readers' relationships with bestsellers bring into view their practices of book selection and their navigation of book recommendation culture. Based on three years of original research (2019–2021), including a quantitative survey with readers, interviews with social media influencers and qualitative work with international Gen Z readers in a private Instagram chat space, the authors highlight three core actions contemporary multimodal readers make: choosing, connecting and responding in a transmedia era where on and offline media practices co exist The contemporary multimodal reader or the MMR3 they argue illustrates the pervasiveness of recommendation culture reliance on trusted others and an ethic of responsiveness
