Page, 2018-05-25 James Gunn, one of the founding figures of science-fiction scholarship and teaching, wrote in 1951 what is likely the first master's thesis on modern science fiction. Portions were in the short-lived pulp magazine Dynamic, but it has otherwise remained unavailable. Here, in its first full publication, the thesis explores many of the classic Golden Age stories of the 1940s and the critical perspective that informed Gunn's essential genre history Alternate Worlds and his anthology series The Road to Science Fiction. The editor's introduction and commentary show the historical significance of Gunn's work and its relevance to today's science-fiction studies.

The Dystopia Game Adam Wodyk, 2022-01-19 This work contains the three The Dystopia Game parts originally released in serialized form. The Imperial Metropolis is the scene of a dangerous game: teenage actors are used as toys in movies in which everything happens for real. For Max Stranger, this means living in a trap. He never knows what might happen during his performance. Like other actors, he is sedated beforehand so that the filmmakers can turn on an artificial consciousness installed in a nanochip in his brain. The actors call this consciousness the Movie Character. When Max starts to play the role with his dormant mind, filmmakers send orders and impulses to the nanochip, forcing the Character to do everything that the script requires. The worst scenario begins when Max and his girlfriend Lara are drawn by the ruthless autarch into a dangerous cinematographic experiment called the Seven Players series, which will be filmed in the outer mutant-infested wilderness and transmitted in real time on TV. Death may be lurking at every turn out there. Anyone may die. Even the leading actor. Perfect for fans of The Hunger Games, Divergent, and The Maze Runner. Previously published as Seven Players.
