Transnational and Postcolonial Vampires T. Khair, 2012-11-14 Throughout the ages vampires have transgressed the borders of gender race class propriety and nations This collection examines the vampire as a postcolonial and transnational phenomenon that maps the fear of the Other the ravenous hunger of Empires and the transcultural rifts and intercultural common grounds that make up global society today Fan Fiction and Fan Communities in the Age of the Internet Karen Hellekson, Kristina Busse, 2014-09-17 Fans have been responding to literary works since the days of Homer s Odyssey and Euripedes Medea More recently a number of science fiction fantasy media and game works have found devoted fan followings The advent of the Internet has brought these groups from relatively limited face to face enterprises to easily accessible global communities within which fan texts proliferate and are widely read and even more widely commented upon. New interactions between readers and writers of fan texts are possible in these new virtual communities. From Star Trek to Harry Potter, the essays in this volume explore the world of fan fiction, its purposes, how it is created, how the fan experiences it. Grouped by subject matter, essays cover topics such as genre intersection, sexual relationships between characters, character construction through narrative, and the role of the beta reader in online communities. The work also discusses the terminology used by creators of fan artifacts and comments on the effects of technological advancements on fan communities. Differences in Common Joana Sabadell-Nieto, Marta Segarra, 2014-05-10. Differences in Common engages in the ongoing debate on community, focusing on its philosophical and political aspects through a gendered perspective. It explores the subversive and enriching potential of the concept of community as seen from the perspective of heterogeneity and distance, and not from homogeneity and fused adhesions. This theoretical reflection is in most of the essays included here, based on the analysis of literary and filmic texts which, due to their irreducible singularity, teach us to think without being tied or needing to resort to commonplaces. Philosophers such as Arendt, Blanchot, Foucault, Agamben, or Derrida have made seminal reflections on community, often inspired by contemporary historical events and sometimes questioning the term itself. More recently, thinkers like Judith Butler, Gayatri Spivak, or Rada Ivekovic, included in this volume, are essays by all three that have emphasized the gender bias in the debate, also problematizing the notion of community. Most of the essays gathered in Differences in Common conceive community not as the affirmation of several properties which would unite us to other similar individuals, but as the expropriation of ourselves. Esposito, in an intimate diaspora, Community does not fill the gap between subjects but places itself in this gap or void. This conception stresses the subject's vulnerability, a topic which is also central to this volume. The body of community is thus opened by a wound, Cixous, which exposes us to the contagion of otherness. The essays collected here reflect on different topics related to these issues, such as gender and nation, nationalism, internationalism, transnationalism, nationalism's naturalization of citizenship, and the exclusion of women from citizenship, the violent consequences of a gendered nation on women's bodies, gendering community, preservation of difference within the community, bodily vulnerability, and new politics, community and mourning, community and the politics of memory, fiction, historical truth, and fake documentary, love, relationality, and community, interpretive communities, and virtual communities on the Web, among others. Joana Sabadell-Nieto is Professor of Contemporary Spanish Literature, Gender and Feminist Studies at Hamilton College, USA, and Researcher at the Center for Women and Literature at the University of Barcelona. Marta Segarra is Professor of French and Francophone literature and Gender Studies at the University of Barcelona, Spain, Director of the UNESCO Chair Women Development and Cultures, and co-founder and director of the Center for Women and Literature, 2003-2012.
