Slum Upgrading And Participation Lessons From Latin America Directions In Development:

Slum Upgrading and Participation Ivo IMPARATO, Jeff Ruster, 2003-01-01 The UN currently estimates that there are about 837 million urban slum dwellers worldwide and this figure is likely to rise to 1.5 billion by 2020 if current trends are not reversed This book offers five geographically and institutionally diverse case studies from Latin America where some of the longest running and most successful programmes in this field have been conducted These programmes involving a wide variety of funding arrangements and agencies demonstrate the positive impact that community participation and people oriented service solutions can have on slum upgrading efforts in low income urban areas Urban Stormwater Management in Developing Countries J. Parkinson, O. Mark, 2005-09-30 The purpose of this book is to disseminate contemporary knowledge and practical experiences concerning problems and solutions related to urban hydrology and drainage Although the main focus is on developing countries the book draws from experiences in many other parts of the world Based upon numerous practical examples and case studies the book provides information to assist in the management planning and engineering design processes Urban Stormwater Management in Developing Countries covers a wide range of methods and approaches to improve the understanding and ability of local stakeholders to solve stormwater problems within the framework of integrated urban water management As well as structural interventions the book describes various non structural approaches for flood mitigation and pollution control This book encourages the reader to adopt an integrated approach towards stormwater management and considers the importance of institutional arrangements participation of local stakeholders in planning as well as aspects of financing and cost recovery This comprehensive and topical book Addresses the broad range of issues related to urban stormwater management with a specific focus on developing countries Covers the main aspects of planning design operation and maintenance of urban drainage systems as well as socio economic and institutional issues related to urban stormwater management Presents structural and non structural approaches for flood mitigation and pollution control within an integrated water resource management framework Provides extensive examples and case studies of best practice Contents Urbanisation and urban hydrology Impacts of flooding on society Integrated framework for stormwater management Institutional structures and policies Planning for urban stormwater management Approaches to urban drainage system design Ecological approaches to urban drainage system design Applications of computer models Operational performance and maintenance Flood mitigation and response strategies Participation and partnerships Economics and financing Full Contents List 27KB Cities as Partners Marika Bontenbal, 2009 Resilient Urban Regeneration in Informal Settlements in the Tropics Oscar Carracedo García-Villalba, 2020-09-15 This book focuses on the implementation of slum upgrading projects and the last generation of citywide programmes that define the future urban configuration of informal settlements from a citywide perspective in the Earth's tropical region The book presents a study on regeneration experiences in Asia and Latin America and it identifies important points of connection and similarities between the two cases while also determining that compared to Asia informality in Latin America is in its second generation

Eco-architecture C. A. Informal Settlements Marie Huchzermeyer, Aly Karam, 2006 Informal settlements are a shameful feature of poverty and inherited inequalities in South Africa Defined in this book as settlements of the urban poor developed through the unauthorised occupation of land they are regarded by many as unhealthy and overcrowded blights on the urban landscape squatter camps in common parlance Yet census data tell us that 16.4% of households across the country live in informal settlements mostly in urban areas where an insecure foothold on the land enables these households to access the economic opportunities social and economic networks and basic amenities that are essential to their survival

Cities for Life Jason Corburn, 2021-11-16 In cities around the world planning and health experts are beginning to understand the role of social and environmental conditions that lead to trauma By respecting the lived experience of those who were most impacted by harms some cities have developed innovative solutions for urban trauma In Cities for Life public health expert Jason Corburn shares lessons from three of these cities Richmond California Medellin Colombia and Nairobi Kenya Corburn draws from his work with citizens activists and decision makers in these cities over a ten year period as individuals and communities worked to heal from trauma including from gun violence housing and food insecurity poverty and other harms Cities for Life is about a new way forward with urban communities that rebuilds our social institutions practices and policies to be more focused on healing and health

Ecocities Now Jennie Moore, Sahar Attia, Adel Abdel-Kader, Aparajithan Narasimhan, 2020-11-30 This book presents a selection of the best papers submitted to the International Ecocity World Summit held in Vancouver October 7-11 2019 The objective is to accelerate knowledge dissemination about the development of ecocities through attention to what constitutes an ecocity what cities around the world are doing what Vancouver as an emerging ecocity is doing and how education can play a role in preparing the next generation of ecocity practitioners The book uses the Summit's overarching theme and sub themes as an organizing framework and aligns with the International Ecocity Standards that serve as a diagnostic tool to help cities assess their progress on the path to becoming ecocities The Ecocity Standards are also proving useful to communities in developing locally relevant pathways to achieving the UN Sustainable Development Goals The book is presented in four parts that align with the Summit overarching theme of i building a bridge to socially just and ecologically sustainable cities supported by sub themes of ii climate action iii circular economy and iv informal solutions for sustainable development Chapters comprising each part in the book are introduced by a brief precis that orients the reader to the relevant Ecocity Standards that are being addressed and other important contextual considerations that open the potential application of the chapters to an international audience Arguments presented in the selected papers provide an orientation to the importance of engaging people where they live in ecocity transformations as well as emerging opportunities for affordable and accessible technologies that help cities build capacity for implementation of ecocity initiatives

Urban Social Housing Patrick Wakely, 2024-02-19 This book proposes operational approaches to public sector support to community led development of urban low income group social housing in the prevailing and medium term Within the context of mitigating and redressing the existential threats of climate change and global pathogenic transmission building on current concerns of global heating and the lessons learnt from the 2020-22 COVID-19 pandemic the book closely examines recent examples from a wide international range of countries and cities from the Sri Lanka experience to Arab States of the Middle East and the Andes Topics include maintenance and management of public sector housing poverty alleviation objectives climate change mitigation housing density local land management and planning land rights affordable housing markets and international governance and administration ultimately pointing to the universal need for institutional organisational and human skills development and the compilation and dissemination of operationally successful examples of participatory partnerships for affordable social housing The book will be of interest to researchers instructors practitioners and students of urban development housing environmental design land use planning public administration and environmental health engineering

Urban Power Benjamin H. Bradlow, 2024-10-22 Why some cities are more effective than others at reducing inequalities in the built environment For the first time in history most people live in cities One in seven are living in slums the most excluded parts of cities in which the basics of urban life including adequate housing accessible sanitation and reliable transportation are largely unavailable Why are some cities more successful than others in reducing inequalities in the built environment In Urban Power Benjamin Bradlow explores this question examining the effectiveness of urban governance in two megacities in young democracies S o Paulo Brazil and Johannesburg South Africa Both cities came out of periods of authoritarian rule with similarly high inequalities and similar policy priorities to lower them And yet S o Paulo has been far more successful than Johannesburg in improving access to basic urban goods Bradlow examines the relationships between local government bureaucracies and urban social movements that have shaped these outcomes Drawing on sixteen months of fieldwork in both cities including interviews with informants from government agencies political leadership social movements private developers bus companies and water and sanitation companies Bradlow details the political and professional conflicts between and within movements governments private corporations and political parties He proposes a bold theoretical approach for a new global urban sociology that focuses on variations in the coordination of local governing power arguing that the concepts of embeddedness and cohesion explain processes of change that bridge external social mobilization and the internal coordinating capacity of local government to implement policy changes
