Online Small Groups as Sites of Teaching Simon Hallonsten, 2024-04-25 Centered around a reflective narrative recounting the experiences of a participatory action research project into leading online small groups for adults in the Church of Sweden Diocese of Stockholm during 2021 and 2022 the dissertation argues for the need to reconceptualize and reemphasize teaching as an important aspect in Christian religious education Employing creative non fiction methods the dissertation aims to broaden the scope of the initial Online Small Groups project by inviting readers to join into a learning journey The narrative account is complemented with more traditional forms of analysis that connect experiences from online small groups in the Church of Sweden to similar research from Anglo Saxon countries noting especially how notions of community diverge due to different ecclesiological understandings Insights are then synthesized into eight teaching strategies aimed at communicating actionable knowledge to small group leaders before noting how the study complements research on Christian religious education and particularly the current debate about learning and teaching in the Church of Sweden

What Readers Do Beth Driscoll,2024-02-21 Shining a spotlight on everyday readers of the 21st century Beth Driscoll explores how contemporary readers of Anglophone fiction interact with the book industry digital environments and each other We live in an era when book clubs bibliomemoirs Bookstagram and BookTok are as valuable to some readers as solitary reading moments The product of nearly two decades of qualitative research into readers and reading culture What Readers Do examines reading through three dimensions aesthetic conduct moral conduct and self care to show how readers intertwine private and social behaviors and both reinforce and oppose the structures of capitalism Analyzing reading as a post digital practice that is a synthesis of both print and digital modes and on and offline behaviors Driscoll presents a methodology for studying readers that connects book history literary studies sociology and actor network theory Arguing for the vitality agency and creativity of readers this book sheds light on how we read now and on how much more readers do than just read

Story Katie Egan Cunningham,2015 Stories surround us support us and sustain us We see and hear them when walking down the street on our digital newsfeeds in our interactions with one another in the ways our students play and in literature poetry music images multimedia and dramatic works While acknowledging the importance of teaching students strategies to read different kinds of text to write across genres and to speak and listen with purpose Katie Egan Cunningham reminds us that when we bridge strategy with the power of story we deepen literacy learning and foster authentic engagement Story Still the Heart of Literacy Learning compels us to ask crucial questions Why do stories matter Whose stories count Where do stories live How do stories come alive How do we build stories How do we talk about stories And why does this work take courage Katie shares her story as a classroom teacher literacy specialist staff developer and professor She shows teachers how to create classrooms of caring and inquisitive readers writers and storytellers Katie explains specific ways to build a classroom library that reflects our diverse society through rich purposeful and varied texts She also provides numerous examples of multigenre and multimodal stories from children s and young adult literature poetry songs and multimedia The practical toolkit at the end of each chapter demonstrates how to make stories come alive in any classroom

Dangerous Fictions Lyta Gold,2024-10-29 Honorable Mention for the Pop Culture Association Awards In a political moment when social panics over literature are at their peak Dangerous Fictions is a mind expanding treatise on the nature of fictional stories as cultural battlegrounds for power Fictional stories have long held an uncanny power over hearts and minds especially those of young people In Dangerous Fictions Lyta Gold traces arguments both historical and contemporary that have labeled fiction as dark immoral frightening or poisonous Within each she asks How dangerous is fiction really And what about it provokes waves of moral panic and even censorship Gold argues that any panic about art is largely a disguised panic about power There have been versions of these same fights over fiction for centuries By exposing fiction as a social danger and a battleground of immediate public concern we can see what each side really wants the right to shape the future of a world deeply in flux and a distraction from more pressing material concerns about money access and the hard work of politics From novels about people driven insane by reading novels to copaganda TV shows that influence how viewers regard the police Gold uses her signature wit research and fearless commentary to point readers toward a more substantial question Fiction may be dangerous to us but aren't we also dangerous to it Children's Writers' & Artists' Yearbook 2026 Bloomsbury Publishing, 2025-07-17
