YouTube Review Novel:

Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction Julie Mehta, Harish Mehta, 2024-09-13 Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction is a comprehensive study of the novels of the Sri Lankan Canadian author and poet Michael Ondaatje. This survey of the Booker Prize winning novelist's works locates him as a powerful voice that urges globalization and multiculturalism in a world that is closing its borders. It reconnoitres Ondaatje's search for a homeland by cracking open the core of his evocative inventive and innovative concepts that undergird his art of storytelling. The contributors in this volume examine themes such as literary cosmopolitanism, Sri Lankan identity, diasporic identity, race and racism, home and belonging, trauma in the Sri Lankan civil war, war games and uncertainty theory. An important contribution to Ondaatje studies, the book is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of Sri Lankan literature, diasporic and world literatures, South Asian and Canadian studies, cultural studies, postcolonial fiction and history.

Imperial Middlebrow, 2020-05-11 The collection Imperial Middlebrow edited by Christoph Ehland and Jana Gohrisch takes middlebrow studies further in two ways. First, it focuses on the role middlebrow writing played in the popularisation and dissemination of imperial ideology. It combines the interest in the wider function of literature for a colonial society with close scrutiny of the ideological and socio-economic contexts of writers and readers. The essays cover the Girl's Own Paper fiction about colonial India including its appearance in Scottish writing, the West Indies, the South Pacific as well as illustrations of Haggard's South African imperial romances. Second, the volume proposes using the concept of the middlebrow as an analytical tool to read recent Black and Asian British as well as Nigerian fiction.

Narratives, Nerdfighters, and New Media Jennifer Burek Pierce, 2020-11-15 For decades we've been warned that video killed the radio star and more recently that social media has replaced reading. Nerdfighteria, a first of its kind online literary community with nearly three million members, challenges these assumptions. It is the brainchild of brothers Hank and John Green who provide literary-themed programming on their website and YouTube channel including video clips from John, a best-selling author most famous for his young adult book The Fault in Our Stars. These clips not only give fans personal insights into his works and the writing process, writ large, they also provide unique access to the author, inspiring fans to create their own fan art and make connections with one another. In the twenty-first century, reading and watching videos are related activities that allow people to engage with authors and other readers. Whether they turn to The Fault in Our Stars or titles by lesser-known authors, Nerdfighters are readers. Incorporating thousands of testimonials about what they read and why, Jennifer Burek Pierce not only sheds light on this particular online community, she also reveals what it tells us about the changing nature of reading in the digital age. In Nerdfighteria, we find a community who shows us that being online doesn't mean disinterest in books.

The Heart of Fiction Kate Roberts, 2025-12-29 Reading fiction is at the heart of our classrooms. It's what we love. It's what we want our students to love, whether whole-class novels, book club texts or independent choices. But to love fiction, kids need to be able to, and hopefully want to read without our constant guidance and instruction How can we coach students towards more proficient independent practice when they read Kate Roberts offers strategies to teach the skills students need to confidently analyze character theme and craft strategies they can repeatedly practice across time and texts Since reading strategies alone don't help teachers or students understand the why and how each strategy is anchored by Two page Essays in which Kate describes her thinking about the strategy and explores the human connection to it Why does this strategy matter How does this strategy connect to ways we can think about our own lives Lessons that offer step by step ideas for teaching the skills and strategies in ways that make sense to kids Examples of student work and ideas for feedback bring the lessons to life while templates tools and graphic organizers make teaching them that much easier The Heart of Fiction is about more than skill building It's also about the conditions we can set up in our teaching to make this work stick and for our students to truly grow into themselves as readers It's about the lifeblood of our classrooms

Four Moments of Aesthetic Experience Bryan Counter, 2025-04-15 This book examines the question of aesthetic experience in the novels of Joris Karl Huysmans Marcel Proust Tom McCarthy and Rachel Cusk in order to propose a reconsideration of aesthetic experience informed by literature and philosophy in equal measure The introduction suggests an alternative four moments of aesthetic experience to Kant's four moments of aesthetic judgement derived in part from my four literary authors respectively curation quietness violence and disconnection Taken collectively the four moments show the danger of becoming too invested or interested in aesthetic experience as well as patience and openness toward the creative act of writing While these four moments are not meant as determinations taken together they offer a picture of aesthetic experience as involuntary subject to chance and resistant to calculation on the part of the aesthetic subject Besides contributing to the scholarship on each of the four novelists this book advances a theory of the aesthetic that shifts away from the framework of judging objects to focus instead on experience and how it is articulated both within and beyond literature It is here that the theory of aesthetic experience benefits from literature's singularity no one text or passage can serve as an example that would adequately circumscribe the field of aesthetic experience just as no one philosophical example could and yet the reflective nature of the literary text demands a rigorous look at aesthetic experience without the restrictions of a totalising philosophical system The two negative moments represented by Huysmans's Rebours and McCarthy's Remainder besides ending poorly for the protagonists wind up with a foreclosure of aesthetic experience For Huysmans's Des Esseintes who attempts to sustain aesthetic experience at will via curation the fantasy falls apart leaving him ill and necessitating his dreaded return to society For McCarthy's unnamed narrator who is engaged throughout the novel with various projects of re-enactments the story ends violently with bloodshed and a plane hijacking Theoretically these novels provide a cautionary tale about the impulse to seek out and even domesticate the aesthetic object On the contrary the two positive moments represented by Proust's Recherche and Cusk's Outline trilogy each involve narrators and characters who are invested in the creative act of writing Two particular critically underrepresented passages from Proust can help articulate the quiet moment of aesthetic experience without relying on works of art they are theoretically compelling in their refusal to theorise themselves unlike the more popular passages from the novel Cusk's novels present the moment of disconnection that is the sense of an experience being dislodged from any particular narrative or plot And yet each of the characters in question are creative writers meaning that this everyday feeling of alienation tends to factor into a productive artistic impulse In conclusion these four moments are tied together as they pertain to the nature and boundaries of aesthetic experience in general Just as Kant's four moments of aesthetic judgement seem to be grouped in pairs disinterest and purposiveness without purpose on one hand and universality and necessity on the other hand these four moments can be grouped and set apart to help reconsider what we mean when we talk about aesthetic experience
