Rewired Carl D. Marci, 2022-01-01 Living in an age of digital distraction has wreaked havoc on our brains but there s much we can do to restore our tech life balance We live in a world that is always on where everyone is always connected But we feel increasingly disconnected Why The answer lies in our brains Carl D Marci MD a leading expert on social and consumer neuroscience reviews the mounting evidence that overuse of smart phones and social media is rewiring our brains resulting in a losing deal we are neglecting the relationships that sustain us and keep us healthy in favor of weaker and more ephemeral ties The ability to connect and form strong social bonds is fundamental to human experience and emerged through unique structures in our brains But ever more powerful technologies and ubiquitous access to media have hijacked our need to connect intimately and emotionally with others The quick highs of clicking like and swiping right overstimulate the same neurological reward centers associated with social relationships The habits that accompany our digital lifestyles are putting tremendous pressure on critical components of the brain associated with attention emotion and memory changing how we process information and altering how we communicate and relate even at a physiological level As a psychiatrist working at the forefront of research on the impact of digital technology Marci has seen this transformation up close and developed a range of responses Rewired provides scientifically supported solutions for everyone who wants to restore their tech life balance from parents concerned about their children s exposure to the internet to stressed workers dealing with the deluge of emails and managing the expectation of 24 7 availability
