Handbook of Research on Empowering Early Childhood Educators With Technology Burris, Jade, Rosen, Dina, Karno, Donna, 2021-06-18 Computers and mobile technologies have become widely adopted as sought after tools in the field of education. The prevalence of technology in early childhood education (ECE) is increasing and teachers both pre-service and in-service are using best practices to integrate tools effectively to improve teaching and learning within the field. This includes settings such as childcare centers, family childcare, and community programs that have both educators and administrators adapting to the use of technology. Therefore, it has become critical to research and explore the best practices of technology integration and successful strategies to improve the use of technology in ECE. The Handbook of Research on Empowering Early Childhood Educators With Technology examines best practices that focus specifically on those that facilitate the development of competencies in teaching young children birth to age 8 and technology integration. The chapters include information on the foundations of technology in early childhood education, content-specific technology applications, developmentally appropriate practices (DAP) for learners using technology, and how to meet diverse learner needs with technology. The target audience for this book is early childhood professionals, teacher educators, pre- and in-service teachers in early childhood settings, faculty, and researchers in the field of education, instructional technologists, childcare and elementary school administrators, early education policy organizations, and advocacy groups that are interested in the best practices and successful strategies for implementing technology in ECE.

How to Teach Girls They're Just as Worthy as Boys Trish Allison, 2023-03-11 Inside this guidebook, you'll find concise how-to instructions, age-appropriate ideas, and real-life scenarios for helping girls ages 6-12 increase their gender equality confidence. These are the steps we found to be the most effective for making sure your message sinks in: Help her understand where she fits into women's rights. Define gender bias together and give her specific options for responding to it. Provide options for helping her feel included in girl power. Create a gender-equal home environment. Explain consent at her level so she feels like she owns it. Guide her toward discovering her and exploring her passion. Help her find the right role model. Please note: Our guidebooks strictly adhere to American Psychological Association child development doctrines. Each book includes a comprehensive reference list and in-text citations reinforcing our commitment to evidence-based parenting advice.

Children, Media, and Technology Erica Scharrer, 2025-04-02 An accessible introduction to children's media and technology that centers questions of access, diversity, equity, and inclusion to provide a timely and much-needed text for communication and media studies students and scholars. This book covers several long-standing as well as contemporary issues and controversies pertaining to media and youth, such as violence, cyberbullying, and online harassment, body image disturbances, and beauty norms, and responses to increasingly sophisticated marketing strategies. It also fully explores the ways in which media and technology use enriches the lives of children and teens and empowers them with positive implications for their sense of self, learning, and education, sociality, friendships, and respect for others and knowledge of and action in the world around them In each of these lines of inquiry up to date theory and research findings relevant to diverse young media users and questions of access equity representation and inclusion make this a distinct approach to enhance students understanding of children media and technology This is an essential text for students of Media and Communication Studies taking courses such as Children and Media Children Teens and Media and Children Adolescents and Media as well as similar classes being taught in related departments
