DOWNSTREAM INDUSTRIAL BIOTECHNOLOGY An affordable easily accessible desk reference on biomanufacturing focused on downstream recovery and purification Advances in the fundamental knowledge surrounding biotechnology novel materials and advanced engineering approaches continue to be translated into bioprocesses that bring new products to market at a significantly faster pace than most other industries Industrial scale biotechnology and new manufacturing methods are revolutionizing medicine environmental monitoring and remediation consumer products food production agriculture and forestry and continue to be a major area of research The downstream stage in industrial biotechnology refers to recovery isolation and purification of the microbial products from cell debris processing medium and contaminating biomolecules from the upstream process into a finished product such as biopharmaceuticals and vaccines Downstream process design has the greatest impact on overall biomanufacturing cost because not only does the biochemistry of different products e g peptides proteins hormones antibiotics and complex antigens dictate different methods for the isolation and purification of these products but contaminating byproducts can also reduce overall process yield and may have serious consequences on clinical safety and efficacy Therefore downstream separation scientists and engineers are continually seeking to eliminate or combine unit operations to minimize the number of process steps in order to maximize product recovery at a specified concentration and purity Based on Wiley s Encyclopedia of Industrial Biotechnology Bioprocess Bioseparation and Cell Technology this volume features fifty articles that provide information on down stream recovery of cells and protein capture process development and facility design equipment PAT in downstream processes downstream cGMP operations and regulatory compliance It covers Cell wall disruption and lysis Cell recovery by centrifugation and filtration Large scale protein chromatography Scale down of biopharmaceutical purification operations Lipopolysaccharide removal Porous media in biotechnology Equipment used in industrial protein purification Affinity chromatography Antibody purification monoclonal and polyclonal Protein aggregation precipitation and crystallization Freeze drying of biopharmaceuticals Biopharmaceutical facility design and validation Pharmaceutical bioburden testing Regulatory requirements Ideal for graduate and advanced undergraduate courses on biomanufacturing biochemical engineering biopharmaceutical facility design biochemistry industrial microbiology gene expression technology and cell culture technology Downstream Industrial Biotechnology is also a highly recommended resource for industry professionals and libraries

Manufacturing of Pharmaceutical Proteins Stefan Behme, 2009-06-01 This comprehensive introduction covers all aspects of biopharmaceutical manufacturing including legal and regulatory issues as well as costing procedures Written by a leading expert at one of the largest pharmaceutical companies worldwide this practical text is aimed at a wide audience ranging from libraries via biotech companies to students and technicians planning to enter biopharmaceutical manufacturing In addition it is well suited for academic teaching as well as internal training within larger biotech or pharmaceutical companies

Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients Stanley Nusim, 2016-04-19 To successfully bring an Active Pharmaceutical Ingredient API to market many steps must be followed to ensure compliance with governmental regulations This book is an unparalleled guide to the development manufacturing and regulation of the preparation and use of APIs globally This second edition brings readers up to date with the quality control regulations for APIs that have been added or amended since the first edition These updates help ensure that pharmaceutical professionals and drug manufacturers meet the established and required guidelines set forth by the US and international regulatory industries

Process Architecture in Biomanufacturing Facility Design Jeffery Odum, Michael C. Flickinger, 2018-01-26 Essential information for architects designers engineers equipment suppliers and other professionals who are working in or entering the biopharmaceutical manufacturing field Biomanufacturing facilities that are designed and built today are radically different than in the past The vital information and knowledge needed to design and construct these increasingly sophisticated biopharmaceutical manufacturing facilities is difficult to find in published literature and it is rarely taught in architecture or design schools This is the first book for architects and designers that fills this void Process Architecture in Biomanufacturing Facility Design provides information on design principles of biopharmaceutical manufacturing facilities that support emerging innovative processes and technologies use state of the art equipment are energy efficient and sustainable and meet regulatory requirements Relying on their many years of hands on design and operations experience the authors emphasize concepts and practical approaches toward design construction and operation of biomanufacturing facilities including product process facility relationships closed systems and single use equipment aseptic manufacturing considerations design of biocontainment facility and process based laboratory and sustainability considerations as well as an outlook on the facility of the future Provides guidelines for meeting licensing and regulatory requirements for biomanufacturing facilities in the U S A and WHO especially in emerging global markets in India China Latin America and the Asia Pacific regions Focuses on innovative design and equipment to speed construction and time to market increase energy efficiency and reduce footprint construction and operational costs as well as the financial risks associated with construction of a new facility prior to the approval of the manufactured products by regulatory agencies Includes many diagrams that clarify the design approach Process Architecture in Biomanufacturing Facility Design is an ideal text for professionals involved in the design of facilities for manufacturing of biopharmaceuticals and vaccines biotechnology and life science industry including architects and designers of industrial facilities construction equipment vendors and mechanical engineers It is also recommended for university instructors advanced undergraduates and graduate students in architecture industrial engineering mechanical engineering industrial design and industrial interior design

Good Design Practices for GMP Pharmaceutical Facilities Terry Jacobs, Andrew A. Signore, 2016-08-19 This revised publication serves as a handy and current reference for professionals engaged in planning designing building validating and maintaining modern cGMP pharmaceutical manufacturing facilities in the U S and internationally The new edition expands on facility planning with a focus on the ever growing need to modify existing legacy facilities and on current trends in pharmaceutical manufacturing which include strategies for sustainability and LEED building ratings All chapters have been re examined with a fresh outlook on current good design practices
