Desk Reference

The relationship between humanity and beast is as old as the earth. From time immemorial, humanity's journey through the centuries cannot be told without including the coexistence, contest, and companionship with the creatures of this world. The progress of humanity would have ceased long ago without the indispensable support of animals.

In today's world, humanity's dependence on animals has not changed. Whether it's for companionship, recreation, livelihood, or sustenance, the bond we share with animals is as important as ever. By being co-inhabitants of this planet, we have a responsibility to care for those animals that so completely rely on us for their health and needs.

As beings of nature, animals have long turned to the vegetation around them for nourishment, health, and well-being. The very same natural ingredients to which animals have always been instinctively drawn are found in Young Living essential oils and oil-infused products. For many people, animals are not just possessions; they are beloved members of a family. The same care, hope, and love all apply.

We, as essential oil users, have come to value nature's gifts that grew in a well-tended environment with fertile soil, warm sun, pure water, and fresh air. When it comes to taking care of our pets and other animals, it seems only right to use the same wholesome, natural essential oils on which we have come to rely. We feel compelled to safeguard our animals' health the same way we do the rest of our family.

In this Animal Essential Oils Desk Reference, you will find a comprehensive animal care guide that focuses specifically on putting Young Living essential oils and oil-infused products into use.
