Smith, 2021-09-30 The teaching of Historical European Martial Arts has widespread appeal with numerous clubs in many countries However comparatively few people who run their own club have qualifications that would make them an instructor in traditional martial arts organizations Even those with such qualifications lack in depth cohesive resources for teaching a given style often because they can only work from incomplete sources Thus the need for a book which is grounded in exhaustive research into historical teaching methods and in particular focusing on the specific style of Sigmund Ringeck who was himself a teacher of fighting arts in the late 14th century or the early or mid 15th century In The Art of Longsword Fighting Benjamin J Smith therefore offers the broader information necessary for teachers of historical swordsmanship to deliver courses based on original authentic techniques This includes the various cutting methods the role of competition in learning these arts the mechanics of the interpretive process and insights into how to use a wide range of activities to enhance students experience All of this is achieved through a panoply of photographs showing each move along with explanatory diagrams as well as detailing how and when to introduce each next step in a manner that is faithful to Ringeck s style There is no current literature available which demonstrates how each move should be undertaken and most importantly why each step should be taken in the sequences described There is no doubt that a book of this nature has been long awaited and will be welcomed by instructors and students alike as well as those general readers interested in fencing and the longsword of the Renaissance period Tools of War Syed Ramsey, 2016-09-01 There are a wide range of ancient weapons from around the globe Ancient weapons are often advancements on the earlier phase of weapons development the primitive weapons man first created for hunting and warfare However some have no primitive predecessors like the sword Swords can only be crafted through a forging process that had not been invented in the earliest phase of weapon construction Ancient weapons come in three forms ranged weapons melee close combat and siege weapons Many of these weapons like the sword are almost universally known while others like the bizarre hunga munga are little known and defy classification The age of ancient weapons technically ended with the dawn of the medieval period but these human powered weapons continued to dominate battlefields up until the ascendance of firearms However they can still be found on
