Steptoe And Sonyoutube:

'You Dirty Old Man!' David Clayton,2022-08-04 Wilfrid Brambell was one of Britain's most loved and complex character actors. As Albert Ladysmith Steptoe, the unscrupulous rag and bone man with questionable habits in Ray Galton and Alan Simpson's long running Steptoe Son, he quickly became a household name with co star Harry H Corbett. But despite scores of other successes in roles on stage, TV and film, Brambell died a sad and lonely man. Alongside fame and fortune, You Dirty Old Man reveals how Brambell suffered unbelievable personal heartache, battling an inner turmoil that eventually drove him to drink as his marriage collapsed in the most deceitful circumstances imaginable. His torment led to a secretive life off camera where he did everything possible to stay out of the public eye. Featuring original interviews with film directors Richard Lester, Terence Davies and Tony Palmer, as well as recollections from his own family members, the family of Harry H Corbett and those who worked alongside him, author David Clayton seeks to re-examine the legacy of a man whose loyal fanbase remains undiminished sixty years on from his heyday. American Remakes of British Television Carlen Lavigne, Heather Marcovitch,2011-01-01 American Remakes of British Television: Transformations and Mistranslations edited by Carlen Lavigne and Heather Marcovitch is an international multidisciplinary collection exploring a specific set of television remakes including The Office, Life on Mars, Sanford and Son, What Not to Wear and others through the lenses of communications studies, English history, psychology and cultural studies. What does it mean to remake a television program? What does the process of Americanization entail? What might the success or failure of a remade series tell us about the differences between American and British producers and audiences? The analysis in this volume results in a rich and multifaceted overview of approaches to global television studies. Great Moments in Computing Mel Croucher, Robin Evans,2018-03-16 The unexpurgated, hilarious and unflinching history of computers, of the lunatics who create them and of the idiots who use them, retold in cartoon strips by Mel Croucher and Robin Evans. Great Moments In Computing is the longest running, most widely read and best loved computer cartoon strip in the world and this unique collection contains every single episode along with unpublished and previously censored versions and the behind the scenes secrets of how it all really happened. Taboo Comedy Chiara Bucaria, Luca Barra,2016-11-26 The essays in this collection explore taboo and controversial humour in traditional scripted sitcoms and other comedy series, animated series and non-scripted forms, stand up comedy, factual and reality shows and advertising, both on cable and network television. Whilst the focus is predominantly on the US and UK, the contributors also address more general and global issues and different contexts of reception in an attempt to look at this kind of comedy from different perspectives. Over the last few decades, taboo comedy has become a staple of television programming, thus raising issues concerning its functions and appropriateness and making it an extremely relevant subject for those interested in how both humour and television work. My Old Man'S a Busman Peter Gilbert,2014-05-15 Whilst there are enough celebrity connections and anecdotes not to be out of place in an A list autobiography, the real hook of this book is that the author isn't remotely famous. The endearing appeal is that it is the viewpoint of the everyman but one who has had enough light brushes with celebrity that he has some great tales to tell. These stories, anecdotes and musings are seamlessly woven into what for many of us will be a memory jogging laughter inducing remembrance of some of the major as well as quainter stranger and more trivial moments of pop culture over the last few decades. If you love pop music and pop culture, feared the Daleks, the Child Catcher from Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and mourn the demise of Pez Cresta conkers as a rite of passage, jokes on lolly sticks, Top of the Pops and pink vinyl limited edition LPs, then you will surely enjoy this. Please beware. This book may waste days if not weeks of your life as almost every paragraph will have you frantically typing into your search engine and getting lost on what may turn out to be an endless Internet Safari. This book contains some adult humour. Best Wishes and Good Luck with your writing Ben Elton

Unreel Diana Wichtel, 2024-11-26 Born to a Polish Holocaust survivor father and a 1950s Kiwi tradwife too busy to police her viewing, Diana Wichtel cut her teeth on the Golden Age of television. But in the 1960s things fell apart. Diana's fractured family left Canada and blew in to New Zealand just missing the Beatles and minus a father. Diana watched television being born again half a world away and twenty years later walked into the smoky clacking offices of the Listener where she became the country's foremost television critic, loved and loathed with the hate mail in seething capital letters to prove it. Meanwhile television's sometimes pale imitation her real life was beginning to unreel. This is a sharply funny, wise and profound memoir of growing up and becoming a writer of parents and children, early marriage and divorce, finding love again and of the box we gathered around in our living rooms that changed the world. This whipcrack of a book is such good company that my eyes hurt from smiling as I read it. Was I smiling or was it something else? Here we are in our audacity, our absurdity, our banality and our hope. Stumbling towards something now largely past. Linear TV life. Diana Wichtel herself, none of us are spared but most of us are forgiven. This has always been Wichtel's brilliance. Her sharp, funny empathy. She'd be the perfect funeral guest. She also has the critic's obsession with delivering for the audience or reader. As stunningly displayed in Driving to Treblinka, read it, her words carry their truths off the page, impatient for our attention. Gorgeous, acerbic, illuminating, human. Unreel is a wonderful read. John Campbell. A funny, wise memoir that's as much about love and loss as it is about telly. The prose is brilliant, hilarious, just right. Devastating too when the critic looks clear-eyed at the individual tragedy suffered by her family that is a stain on the conscience of the world. This story twines the communal joy of the greatest shows from I Love Lucy to Coro and The Sopranos with the author's realisation of the power the medium has not only to bring us together but to help her face the darkness of the past. Diana Wichtel is watching TV but she sees so much more. Noelle McCarthy. The funniest writer on the planet on the mad, sad and profound joys of the idiot box. You should binge read this. Steve Braunias

The Moving Form of Film Lúcia

Nagib, Stefan Solomon, 2023 The Moving Form of Film Historicizing the Medium through Other Media charts the ways in which crossing borders between film and other arts and media can provide an encompassing inclusive and non teleological understanding of film history Evolutionary narratives of cinema have traditionally adopted the Second World War as a watershed that separates classical Hollywood films from modern European productions a scheme that subjects the entire world to the cinematic history of two hegemonic centres In turn histories of film as a technological medium have focused on the specificity of cinema as it gradually separated from the other art and medial forms theatre dance fairground spectacle painting literature still photography and other pre cinematic modes Taking an ambitious step forward with relation to these approaches this book focuses on the fluid quality of the film form by exploring an array of exciting and often neglected artistic expressions worldwide as they compare and interconnect films across temporal geographical and cultural borders By observing the ebb and flow of film s contours within the bounds of other artistic and medial expressions the chapters aspire to establish a flexible historical platform for the moving form of film posited from production to consumption as a transforming and transformative medium
