Edinburgh History of the Book in Scotland, Volume 4: Professionalism and Diversity 1880-2000 David Finkelstein, 2007-11-23 In this volume a range of distinguished contributors provide an original analysis of the book in Scotland during a period that has been until now greatly under researched and little understood The issues covered by this volume include the professionalisation of publishing its scale technological developments the role of the state including the library service the institutional structure of the book in Scotland industrial relations union activity and organisation women and the Scottish book and the economics of publishing Separate chapters cover Scottish publishing and literary culture publishing genres the art of print culture distribution and authors and readers The volume also includes an innovative use of illustrative case studies Muggles and Magic George Beahm, 2007 Everyone knows the story of Harry Potter and the rags to riches success of its author J K Rowling but Muggles and Magic thoroughly examines every nook and cranny of the Potter universe including Rowling's life before and after Harry Complete with an in depth look at the real world of J K Rowling including coverage of her trip to New York City in 2006 a behind the scenes peek at the making of the Potter films and 16 big bold pages of photos Muggles and Magic is certain to appeal to Potter fans of all ages Cultural Studies in the EFL Classroom Werner Delanoy, Laurenz Volkmann, 2006 The Publishers Weekly, 2010 Amateur Media Dan Hunter, 2013 The rise of Web 2.0 has pushed the amateur to the forefront of public discourse public policy and media scholarship Typically non salaried non specialist and untrained in media production amateur producers are now seen as key drivers of the creative economy But how do the activities of citizen journalists fan fiction writers and bedroom musicians connect with longer traditions of extra institutional media production This edited collection provides a much needed interdisciplinary contextualisation of amateur media before and after Web 2 0 Surveying the institutional economic and legal construction of the amateur media producer via a series of case studies it features contributions from experts in the fields of law economics and media studies based in the UK Europe and Singapore Each section of the book contains a detailed case study on a selected topic followed by two further pieces providing additional analysis and commentary Using an extraordinary array of case studies and examples from YouTube to online games from subtitling communities to reality TV the book is neither a celebration of amateur production nor a denunciation of the demise of professional media industries Rather this book presents a critical dialogue across law and the humanities exploring the dynamic tensions and interdependencies between amateur and professional creative production This book will appeal to both academics and students of intellectual property and media law as well as to scholars and students of economics media cultural and internet studies
