Cli Fi Novel Step By Step:

Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth's ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn Safeguarding Mountain Social-Ecological Systems, Vol 2 Stefan Schneiderbauer, Jorg Szarzynski, Paola Fontanella Pisa, John F. Shroder, 2024-08-13 Safeguarding Mountain Social Ecological Systems Volume Two Building Transformative Resilience in Mountain Regions Worldwide presents an overview of the relevant research in mountain regions worldwide identifies existing challenges and provides an understanding of the diversity of mountain ecosystems in different regions It focuses on understanding protecting and enhancing mountain social ecological systems This second volume places a stronger emphasis on building transformative resilience in mountain regions indicating a focus on proactive measures to address challenges and promote sustainable development It also highlights regional perspectives and case studies and insights from various mountain regions worldwide Focuses on existing efforts emerging risks and collaborative initiatives in the field of mountain social ecological systems Allows readers to gain insights into diverse social ecological systems and understand the unique challenges and opportunities associated with each region Explores strategies and approaches to enhance the resilience of mountain social ecological systems through case studies insights and opportunities presented in each region Climate and Society Robin Leichenko, Karen O'Brien, 2024-05-13 This bold and passionate textbook has become a go to introduction to current and emerging thinking on the social dimensions of climate change presenting key concepts and frameworks for understanding the multifaceted connections between climate and society Using clear language and powerful examples Robin Leichenko and Karen O'Brien explore the varied social drivers impacts and responses to climate change They highlight the important roles that worldviews values and especially in this updated edition emotions play in shaping interpretations of climate challenges They include additional material on climate justice and equity eco centric discourses paradigm shifts and other topics Situating climate change within the context of a rapidly changing world the book demonstrates how dynamic political economic and environmental contexts amplify risks often unequally for different groups based on race gender wealth and location Yet these shifting conditions also present opportunities for transformative responses the new edition strengthens its emphasis on individuals power to influence systems structures and cultures With updated references examples and data and expanded pedagogical features this informative and engaging new edition empowers undergraduates across the social sciences and other disciplines with a broader and deeper understanding of climate change and the potential for equitable and sustainable responses
