Sense of Safety Jenni Spannari, Liz Grant, Monica Worline, Anne Birgitta Pessi, Henrietta Grönlund, Birgitte Johansen, 2025-09-23 The sense of safety is an essential foundation for human flourishing and well being It is a basic human need grounded in the evolutionary history of the human species as a part of the ecosphere However social political and health related global challenges have eroded deeply not only safety but our sense of safety Sense of safety is an individual experience but it is deeply rooted in the social communal and societal frames Thus in research we need to look at the sense of safety understanding that the wider societal situation strongly consists of individual and grass roots level experiences All people notwithstanding their race or age or any other variable need to feel safe Sense of safety is a feeling of relative security a comprehensive yet subjective psychological experience It requires ongoing appraisal closely associated with a person's awareness and perception That is sense of safety is related to safety but never the same and it is always about emotions It is deeply social never just about an individual and should be studied as such Sense of safety is pivotal for individuals communities in societies Interdisciplinary research on sense of safety is scarce and often academically too shallow e g not defining sense of safety as in e g Zacharia et al 2021 Murakami et al 2017 nor even differentiating between safety and sense of safety e g in Zou Yu 2022 Research and mainstream media focus mostly on the large scale picture of safety e g statistics trends in numbers and political reporting But what are the individual level experiences of sense of safety and sense of security today How are they culturally bound and to what extent more universal Justpeace Ethics Jarem

Sawatsky, 2009-01-01 People too often enter into conflict with an eye on how to resolve manage or transform it thereby losing sight of the people involved and the end desired Justice and peace too often serve as abstract ideals or distant shores We have not yet learned enough about how these ends can also be the means of conflict resolution Drawing on the imaginations of some leading peace and restorative justice practitioners Justpeace Ethics identifies components of a justpeace imagination the basis of an alternative ethics where the end is touched with each step In this simple companion to justpeace ethics Jarem Sawatsky helps those struggling with how to respond to conflict and violence in both just and peaceful ways He offers practical examples of how analysis intervention and evaluation can be rooted in a justpeace imagination Child

Maltreatment, An Issue of Pediatric Clinics Howard Dubowitz, 2014-11-22 Pediatric primary care provides a unique opportunity to tackle child abuse and neglect In the United States in particular primary care is a well established system and most children have multiple visits especially in the first few years There is typically a very good relationship between parents and health professionals who are respected experts on children The interested pediatrician thus has a remarkable entrance into the workings of a family its shortcomings and its strengths With some knowledge and skill pediatricians can play a pivotal role even in a few strategic minutes We know however that some professionals feel very uncomfortable becoming involved in this unpleasant area and may be deterred from taking any action Understandable as this may be it can jeopardize a child's health and safety Hopefully this issue of Pediatric Clinics of North America will help make this work a bit easier albeit not easy With training and support pediatricians can equip themselves to be competent and more comfortable addressing child maltreatment Aside from the possible forensic implications the heart of this work is primarily about helping families take adequate or good care of their children Indeed helping address child abuse and neglect also helps promote children's health development and safety and it is central to the rich mandate of Pediatrics
