Cheeseman, Rhonda Carlson, Edward J Gac, 1999-08-10 Contains a wealth of material that reinforces the text's coverage including a macro view with an outline of major topics a micro view with a concise summary of all details from each chapter and three levels of discussion questions basic recall application and critical thinking

Business Law Carlson, Edward J. Gac, Gac, 1995-03      The Late Victorian Folksong Revival E. David Gregory, 2010-04-13 In The Late Victorian Folksong Revival The Persistence of English Melody 1878 1903 E David Gregory provides a reliable and comprehensive history of the birth and early development of the first English folksong revival Continuing where Victorian Songhunters his first book left off Gregory systematically explores what the Late Victorian folksong collectors discovered in the field and what they published for posterity identifying differences between the songs noted from oral tradition and those published in print In doing so he determines the extent to which the collectors distorted what they found when publishing the results of their research in an era when some folksong texts were deemed unsuitable for polite ears The book provides a reliable overall survey of the birth of a movement tracing the genesis and development of the first English folksong revival It discusses the work of more than a dozen song collectors focusing in particular on three key figures the pioneer folklorist in the English west country Reverend Sabine Baring Gould Frank Kidson who greatly increased the known corpus of Yorkshire song and Lucy Broadwood who collected mainly in the counties of Sussex and Surrey and with Kidson and others was instrumental in founding the Folk Song Society in the late 1890s The book includes copious examples of the song tunes and texts collected including transcriptions of nearly 300 traditional ballads broadside ballads folk lyrics occupational songs carols shanties and national songs demonstrating the abundance and high quality of the songs recovered by these early collectors      Language, the Singer and the Song Richard J. Watts, Franz Andres

Morrissey, 2019-01-31 The relationship between language and music has much in common rhythm structure sound metaphor Exploring the phenomena of song and performance this book presents a sociolinguistic model for analysing them Based on ethnomusicologist John Blacking's contention that any song performed communally is a folk song regardless of its generic origins it argues that folk song to a far greater extent than other song genres displays communal or inclusive types of performance The defining feature of folk song as a multi modal instantiation of music and language is its participatory nature making it ideal for sociolinguistic analysis In this sense a folk song is the product of specific types of developing social interaction whose major purpose is the construction of a temporally and locally based community Through repeated instantiations this can lead to disparate communities of practice which over time develop sociocultural registers and a communal stance towards aspects of meaningful events in everyday lives that become typical of a discourse community

Guide to Standard Floras of the World David G. Frodin, 2001-06-14 This 2001 book provides a selective annotated bibliography of the principal floras and related works of inventory for vascular plants The second edition was completely updated and expanded to take into account the substantial literature of the late twentieth century and features a more fully developed review of the history of floristic documentation The works covered are principally specialist publications such as floras checklists distribution atlases systematic iconographies and enumerations or catalogues although a relatively few more popularly oriented books are also included The Guide is organised in ten geographical divisions with these successively divided into regions and units each of which is prefaced with a historical review of floristic studies In addition to the bibliography the book includes general chapters on botanical bibliography the history of floras and general principles and current trends plus an appendix on bibliographic searching a lexicon of serial abbreviations and author and geographical indexes

Victorian Songhunters E. David Gregory, 2006-04-13 Victorian Songhunters is a pioneering history of the rediscovery of vernacular song street songs that have entered oral tradition and have been passed from generation to generation in England during the late Georgian and Victorian eras In the nineteenth century there were four main types of vernacular song ballads folk lyrics occupational songs and national songs The discovery collecting editing and publishing of all four varieties are examined in the book and over seventy five selected examples are given for illustrative purposes Key concepts such as traditional balladry broadside balladry folksong and national song are analyzed as well as the complicated relationship between print and oral tradition and the different methodological approaches to ballad and song editing Organized chronologically Victorian Songhunters sketches the history of English song collecting from its beginnings in the mid seventeenth century focuses on the work of important individual collectors and editors such as William Chappell Francis J Child and John Broadwood examines the growth of regional collecting in various counties throughout England and demonstrates the considerable efforts of two important Victorian institutions the Percy Society and its successor the Ballad Society The appendixes contain discussions on interpreting songs an assessment of relevant secondary sources and a bibliography and alphabetical song list Author E David Gregory provides a solid foundation for the scholarly study of balladry and folksong and makes a significant contribution to our understanding of Victorian intellectual and cultural life

The Repertory Movement George Rowell, Tony Jackson, Anthony Jackson, 1984-10-18 This is an account of the origins development and current state of the repertory theatre movement in Britain The movement had its roots in ideas experiments and traditions stretching back into the nineteenth century and first found its voice in 1907 with Miss Horniman's company in Manchester. Since then it has played a vital often a dominant role in British twentieth century theatre. As a method of theatre organisation, repertory refers to those theatres based primarily in the regions housing a resident acting company and seeking to maintain each season a programme of plays catering for the tastes of the whole community. But the theory has never been dogmatic and the movement has evolved from a gamut of complex factors not least the visions of particular personalities. Major landmarks in the history include the effects of the two World Wars, the advent of substantial state funding for the Arts, the growth of cinema and television and the renewal of theatre's link with the community in the form of such initiatives as Theatre in Education. The history concludes with a detailed study of six representative regional theatres: The Nottingham Playhouse, The Citizens Theatre, Glasgow, The Salisbury Playhouse, The Victoria Theatre, Stoke, The Everyman, Liverpool and The Royal Exchange, Manchester. Appendixes include a Chronology, sample repertory programmes from the period, audience attendance figures and some comparative statistics about funding. Interspersed through the text are photographs of selected theatre exteriors, auditoria, stages and productions.

A Critical Survey of Studies on Malay and Bahasa Indonesia A.

Teeuw, 2013-04-17. In this book I have aimed at completeness in the sense that all publications known to me which are wholly or partly devoted to Malay and Bahasa Indonesia, B I or are important for the study of these languages have been included. Popular publications in non professional periodicals have been included only exceptionally. All the publications mentioned in the text are incorporated in the Bibliography, p 91-157. The countless articles in four post war semi professional periodicals in Malaya and Indonesia, Dewan Bahasa, Pembina Bahasa Indonesia, 11-1 edan Bahasa, Bahasa dan Budaya are not mentioned separately in the Bibliography but sections 33 to 36 contain a survey as complete and systematic as possible of the contents of these periodicals in so far as they pertain to the Malay language nor have I discussed in the text or incorporated in the Bibliography several hundreds of titles of practical textbooks or school books of Malay or B I which are of no importance to the scientific study of these languages. These titles have been entered in a separate Appendix, p 158-171. The fact that completeness was aimed at certainly does not mean that it has been achieved. Especially various recent writings from Indonesia and Malaya may have escaped my attention. Experience has also proved that publications on Malay sometimes appear in the most unexpected places. The qualification above publications devoted to or important for the study of Malay and B I has been taken in a wide sense.
