Asian Translation Traditions Eva Tsoi Hung Hung,Judy Wakabayashi,2014-07-16 Translation Studies one of the fastest developing fields in the humanities since the early 1980s has so far been Euro centric both in its theoretical explorations and in its historical grounding One of the major reasons for this is the unavailability of reliable data and systematic analysis of translation activities in non European cultures While a number of scholars in the Western tradition of translation studies have become increasingly aware of this bias and its problems practically indicates that the burden of addressing such deficiencies and imbalances should be on the shoulders of scholars who are conversant with the non Western translation traditions and capable of engaging in much needed basic research This book brings together eleven scholars with expertise in different Asian translation traditions who highlight language and cultural environments as well as perceptions and modes of operation often different from those in the Western tradition Their contributions enhance our understanding of the various elements that influence the transfer of knowledge across cultures and provide invaluable data for the study of translation as a force for cultural development and cultural planning Contributors include Eva Hung Judy Wakabayashi Lawrence Wong Yoshihiro Osawa Teresa Hyun Keith Taylor Rita Kothari Doris Jedamski Raniela Barbaza and Bill Cummings Variance in Arabic Manuscripts Florian Sobieroj,2016-05-24 In Arabic and Islamic studies the subject of variance in general and that of textual variation in particular has not been investigated exhaustively so far In the present book the variation in texts of the closed transmission will be studied focusing on a small corpus of didactic and model poems with a view to establishing what degree of text stability and change was allowed by the medium manuscript Categories of variance relating to work titles text number of verses and their sequence page layout context and the means of controlling them in the manuscripts of the poems are identified and detailed descriptions of the copies are given The monograph also includes a presentation of some major traits of the cultural background to the study of Arabic didactic poetry and of its dissemination in which memorization has played a crucial role The intended readers editors and other users of manuscripts are helped to acquaint themselves with the methods employed in the manuscripts to control variation and they are given an overview of the large spectrum of Arabic didactic poetry and of its place in the traditional culture of learning in Islamicate societies E.J. Brill's First Encyclopaedia of Islam 1913-1936, 1987 The Encyclopaedia of Islam First Edition Online EI1 was originally published in print between 1913 and 1936 The demand for an encyclopaedic work on Islam was created by the increasing colonial interest in Muslims and Islamic cultures during the nineteenth century The scope of the Encyclopedia of Islam First Edition is philology history theology and law until early 20th century Such famous scholars as Houtsma Wensinck Gibb Snouck Hurgronje and L vi Proven al were involved in this scholarly endeavor The Encyclopedia of Islam First Edition offers access to 9 000 articles

Christian Mission in Seventeenth-Century Taiwan Christopher Joby, 2025-02-03 This is the first book length study of the reception of Christianity and the epistemic outcomes of contact between Protestant and Catholic missionaries and Indigenous Austronesians in the contact zone of seventeenth century colonial Taiwan In the Age of European Expansion Dutch Reformed and Spanish Catholic missionaries attempted to win the souls of Indigenous Austronesian people in Taiwan Christopher Joby examines the strategies that the missionaries employed to overcome the gap between their own cultures and languages and those of the Indigenous Austronesians or Formosans in the contact zone of seventeenth century Taiwan and evaluates the success of these strategies As such this book is a reception history of the texts beliefs and practices that Reformed Protestant and Catholic missionaries introduced to convert the Formosans to their mode of Christianity Using many linguistic and non linguistic examples this approach allows for a complementary colour perspective by comparing the epistemic outcomes of the Dutch Reformed and Spanish Catholic missions Manuscripts and Travellers Sam van Schaik, Imre Galambos, 2011-11-30 This study is based on a manuscript which was carried by a Chinese monk through the monasteries of the Hexi corridor as part of his pilgrimage from Wutaishan to India The manuscript has been created as a composite object from three separate documents with Chinese and Tibetan texts on them Included is a series of Tibetan letters of introduction addressed to the heads of monasteries along the route functioning as a passport when passing through the region The manuscript dates to the late 960s coinciding with the large pilgrimage movement during the reign of Emperor Taizu of the Northern Song recorded in transmitted sources Therefore it is very likely that this is a unique contemporary testimony of the movement of which our pilgrim was also part Complementing extant historical sources the manuscript provides evidence for the high degree of ethnic cultural and linguistic diversity in Western China during this period
