The Invisibles A Collection Of Poetry And Artwork:

The Invisibles Donia Gobar,2003 The Invisibles a unique collection of poetry and artwork is a creation in which the style of written words and brush strokes takes the reader into an amazing and brave world where the magical dawns and exotic twilights of the East and West intertwine where days and nights seek each other in the fantastic voyage of life Each poem is a previously untold story from the world of the invisible whose voices we may not hear and whose faces we may not see whose pain we may not feel and whose languages we may not understand and whose heroism we may not notice These are the innocent and noble human beings that are pressured by social injustice caught in the crossfire of mindless and violent powers This book includes 19 prints of original paintings These paintings reflect some of the artist s thoughts and perceptions throughout a stormy life across the continents

Take the Compass Maureen Hynes, 2023-09-15 take the harp take the Fitbit and the Band Aid box Fold the whole grey sheet of sky lumpy and unalluring into your rucksack A strong theme of journeys is threaded through Take the Compass In a sense every poem is itself a journey into the past or the present or toward what we hope and fear for the future Poems can be journeys of repair and recovery adventure and discovery However even in pandemic times when our journeying is curtailed or at least confined when we are abiding in one physical location with chafing and restiveness we are still travelling One of those journeys is discovering where language can take us Maureen Hynes s poems travel through cities and their outskirts to rivers forests and graveyards They travel in time into the troubled present across decades into early childhood and into our perilous collective futures seeking guides for these explorations The title poem addresses the search for tools and instruments that will ward off adversity tools to help us move forward to our chosen destinations Take the Compass calls on art and nature as invisible helpers and on uncountable things personal values and traits such as courage to break the bad news into nine living petals As with all her collections Hynes shows a commitment to social justice to acknowledging historical and contemporary inequities to the search for sources of remedy repair and renewal and to the sustaining power of love The variety of poetic forms she has chosen lets this search carry the complexity and seriousness of its themes
