Stories Cli Fi Novel:

The Routledge Anthology of Climate Fiction Bill Gillard, 2024-11-26 The Routledge Anthology of Climate Fiction brings together key works from the Bible to the twentieth century in an accessible resource for students and teachers alike With a robust variety of works including H G Wells Clare Winger Harris H P Lovecraft Leslie F Stone and Arthur Conan Doyle The Routledge Anthology of Climate Fiction offers vital new perspectives and critical introductions all the way back to humanity's earliest surviving literary texts

Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth's ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn

(Eco)Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Dominika Oramus, 2023-07-07 Eco Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Doomsday Clock Narratives demonstrates that disaster fiction nuclear holocaust and climate change alike allows us to unearth and anatomise contemporary psychodynamics and enables us to identify pretraumatic stress as the common denominator of seemingly unrelated types of texts These Doomsday Clock Narratives argue that earth's demise is soon and certain They are set after some catastrophe and depict people waiting for an even worse catastrophe to come References to geology are particularly important in descriptions of the landscape the emphasis falls on waste and industrial bric a brac which is seen through the eyes of a future posthuman archaeologist Their protagonists have the uncanny feeling that the countdown has already started and they are coping with both traumatic memories and pretraumatic stress Readings of novels by Walter M Miller Nevil Shute John Christopher J G Ballard George Turner Maggie Gee Paolo Bacigalupi Ruth Ozeki and Yoko Tawada demonstrate that the authors are both indebted to a century old tradition and inventively looking for new ways of expressing the pretraumatic stress syndrome common in contemporary society This book is written for an academic audience postgraduates researchers and academics specialising in British Literature American Literature and Science Fiction Studies

Handbook of Climate Change Communication: Vol. 2 Walter Leal Filho, Evangelos Manolas, Anabela Marisa Azul, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, Henry McGhie, 2017-11-19 This comprehensive handbook provides a unique overview of the theory methodologies and best practices in climate change communication from around the world It fosters the exchange of information ideas and experience gained in the execution of successful projects and initiatives and discusses novel methodological approaches aimed at promoting a better understanding of climate change adaptation Addressing a gap in the literature on climate change communication and pursuing an integrated approach the handbook documents and disseminates the wealth of experience currently available in this field Volume 2 of the handbook provides a unique description of the theoretical basis and of some of the key facts and phenomena which help in achieving a better understanding of the basis of climate change communication providing an essential basis for successful initiatives in this complex field Apocalyptic Visions in the Anthropocene and the Rise of Climate Fiction Kübra Baysal,2021-08-10 With the increasing interest of pop culture and academia towards environmental issues which has simultaneously given rise to fiction and artworks dealing with interdisciplinary issues climate change is an undeniable reality of our time In accordance with the severe environmental degradation and health crises today including the COVID 19 pandemic human beings are awakening to this reality through climate fiction cli fi which depicts ways to deal with the anthropogenic transformations on Earth through apocalyptic worlds as displayed in works of literature media and art Appealing to a wide range of readers from NGOs to students this book fills a gap in the fields of literature media and art and sheds light on the inevitable interconnection of humankind with the nonhuman environment through effective descriptions of associable conditions in the works of climate fiction The Cambridge Companion to the American Short Story Michael J. Collins,Gavin Jones,2023-05-25 This Companion offers students and scholars a comprehensive introduction to the development and the diversity of the American short story as a literary form from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day Rather than define what the short story is as a genre or defend its importance in comparison with the novel this Companion seeks to understand what the short story does how it moves through national space how it is always related to other genres and media and how its inherent mobility responds to the literary marketplace and resonates with key critical themes in contemporary literary studies The chapters offer authoritative introductions and reinterpretations of a literary form that has re emerged as a major force in the twenty first century public sphere dominated by the Internet Imagining the Future of Climate Change Shelley Streeby,2018-01-31 NoDAPL native American and indigenous science fiction and futurisms Climate refugees in the greenhouse world archiving global warming with Octavia E Butler Climate change as a world problem shaping change in the wake of disaster Monstrous Nature Robin L. Murray,Joseph K. Heumann,2016-10-01 Godzilla a traditional natural monster and representation of cinema s subgenre of natural attack also provides a cautionary symbol of the dangerous consequences of mistreating the natural world monstrous nature on the attack Horror films such as Godzilla invite an exploration of the complexities of a monstrous nature that humanity both creates and embodies Robin L Murray and Joseph K Heumann demonstrate how the horror film and its offshoots can often be understood in relation to a monstrous nature that has evolved either deliberately or by accident and that generates fear in humanity as both character and audience This connection between fear and the natural world opens up possibilities for ecocritical readings often missing from research on monstrous nature the environment and the horror film Organized in relation to four recurring environmental themes in films that construct nature as a monster anthropomorphism human ecology evolution and gendered landscapes the authors apply ecocritical perspectives to reveal the multiple ways nature is constructed as monstrous or in which the natural world itself constructs monsters This interdisciplinary approach to film studies fuses cultural theological and scientific critiques to explore when and why nature becomes monstrous

Teaching the Literature of Climate Change Debra J. Rosenthal, 2024-04-26 Over the past several decades writers such as Margaret Atwood Paolo Bacigalupi Octavia E Butler and Kathy Acker have explored climate change through literature reflecting current anxieties about humans impact on the planet Emphasizing the importance of interdisciplinarity this volume embraces literature as a means to cultivate students understanding of the ongoing climate crisis ethics in times of disaster and the intrinsic intersectionality of environmental issues Contributors discuss speculative climate futures the Anthropocene postcolonialism climate anxiety and the usefulness of storytelling in engaging with catastrophe The essays offer approaches to teaching interdisciplinary and cross listed courses including strategies for team teaching across disciplines and for building connections between humanities majors and STEM majors The volume concludes with essays that explore ways to address grief and to contemplate a hopeful future in the face of apocalyptic predictions

Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction Jonathan Elmore, 2020-04-01 Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction is one of the first works to focus specifically on fiction s engagements with human driven extinction Drawing together a diverse group of scholars and approaches this volume pairs established voices in the field with emerging scholars and traditionally recognized climate fiction cli fi with texts and media typically not associated with Anthropocene fictions The result is a volume that both engages with and furthers existing work on Anthropocene fiction as well as laying groundwork for the budding subfield of extinction fiction This volume takes up the collective insistence on the centrality of story to extinction studies In various and disparate ways each chapter engages with the stories we tell about extinction about the extinction of animal and plant life and about the extinction of human life itself Answering the call to action of extinction studies these chapters explore what kinds of humanity caused this event and what kinds may live through it what cultural assumptions and values led to this event and which ones could lead out of it what relationships between human life and this planet allowed the sixth mass extinction and what alternative relationships could be possible

The Apocalyptic Dimensions of Climate Change Jan

Alber,2021-09-07 Climate change and the apocalypse are frequently associated in the popular imagination of the twenty first century This collection of essays brings together climatologists theologians historians literary scholars and philosophers to address and critically assess this association The contributing authors are concerned among other things with the relation between cultural and scientific discourses on climate change the role of apocalyptic images and narratives in representing environmental issues and the tension between reality and fiction in apocalyptic representations of catastrophes By focusing on how figures in fictional texts interact with their environment and deal with the consequences of climate change this volume foregrounds the broader social and cultural function of apocalyptic narratives of climate change By evoking a sense of collective human destiny in the face of the ultimate catastrophe apocalyptic narratives have both cautionary and inspirational functions Determining the extent to which such narratives square with scientific knowledge of climate change is one of the main aims of this book

Fire and Snow Marc DiPaolo,2018-07-11 Fellow Inklings J R R Tolkien and C S Lewis may have belonged to different branches of Christianity but they both made use of a faith based environmentalist ethic to counter the mid twentieth century s triple threats of fascism utilitarianism and industrial capitalism In Fire and Snow Marc DiPaolo explores how the apocalyptic fantasy tropes and Christian environmental ethics of the Middle earth and Narnia sagas have been adapted by a variety of recent writers and filmmakers of climate fiction a growing literary and cinematic genre that grapples with the real world concerns of climate change endless wars and fascism as well as the role religion plays in easing or escalating these apocalyptic level crises Among the many other well known climate fiction narratives examined in these pages are Game of Thrones The Hunger Games The Handmaid s Tale Mad Max and Doctor Who Although the authors of these works stake out ideological territory that differs from Tolkien s and Lewis s DiPaolo argues that they nevertheless mirror their predecessors ecological concerns The Christians Jews atheists and agnostics who penned these works agree that we all need to put aside our cultural differences and transcend our personal socioeconomic circumstances to work together to save the environment Taken together these works of climate fiction model various ways in which a deep ecological solidarity might be achieved across a broad ideological and cultural spectrum This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to Knowledge Unlatched an initiative that provides libraries and institutions with a centralized platform to support OA collections and from leading publishing houses and OA initiatives Learn more at the Knowledge Unlatched website at <https://www.knowledgeunlatched.org> and access the book online at the SUNY Open Access Repository at <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12648/7137> comprehensive and thoroughly researched study of climate fiction from around the world including novels short stories films and other formats Informed by a sociological perspective it will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars looking to enter and expand the field of climate fiction studies Unseasonable Sarah Dimick,2024-10-08 As climate change alters seasons around the globe literature registers and responds to shifting environmental time A writer and a fisher track the distribution of beach trash in Chennai chronicling disruptions in seasonal winds and currents along the Bay of Bengal An essayist in the northeastern United States observes that maple sap flows earlier now prompting him to reflect on gender and seasons of transition Poets affiliated with small island nations arrive in Paris for the United Nations climate summit revamping the occasional poem to attest to intensifying storm seasons across the Pacific In Unseasonable Sarah Dimick links these accounts of shifting seasons across the globe tracing how knowledge of climate change is constructed conveyed and amplified via literature She documents how the unseasonable reverberates through environmentally privileged and environmentally precarious communities In chapters ranging from Henry David Thoreau's journals to Alexis Wright's depiction of Australia's catastrophic bushfires from classical Tamil poetry to repeat photography Dimick illustrates how seasonal rhythms determine what flourishes and what perishes She contends that climate injustice is an increasingly temporal issue unfolding not only along the axes of who and where but also in relation to when Amid misaligned and broken rhythms attending to the shared but disparate experience of the unseasonable can realign or sharpen solidarities within the climate crisis Handbook of the Philosophy of Climate Change Gianfranco Pellegrino,Marcello Di Paola,2023-11-24 This Handbook offers a broad yet unified treatment of many philosophical issues connected with climate change ranging from foundational puzzles to detailed applications It extends to many branches of philosophy that are relevant to the understanding of the premises and implications of the impacts of climate change on human and nonhuman life on Earth More specifically the handbook examines the scientific accounts of climate change as well as its causes It explores the tools offered by social sciences and humanities to study the societal premises and impacts of climate change as well as delving deeper into the ethical and political issues connected with and resulting from climate change By doing so it puts it all in an ecological and historical context In addition the book offers solutions to some important philosophical puzzles and problems and indicates paths of interaction between philosophy and other disciplines The discussion about climate change and the mitigation adaptation policies spans many areas and levels from abstract science and philosophy to current on the ground politics However climate change is also a great a philosophical puzzle Indeed its existential and practical relevance can be thought to largely derive from the philosophical complications it engenders Climate change is applied philosophy par excellence Preventing dangerous anthropogenic climate change needs very good philosophy applied to concrete and specific practical issues Climate change is an area where scholars from very different provenances should cooperate on equal terms having in view a common and really important purpose contribute to preventing great burdens and even the extinction of humankind and the destruction of hospitable and valuable non human nature Storying the Ecocatastrophe Helena Duffy,Katarina Leppänen,2024-05-31 How do writers and artists represent the climate catastrophe so that their works stir audiences to political action or at least raise their environmental awareness without however appearing didactic Storying the Ecocatastrophe attempts to answer this question while interrogating the potential of narrative to become a viable political force The collection of essays achieves this by examining the representational strategies and ideological goals of contemporary cultural productions about climate change These productions have been created across different genres such as the traditional novel dance performance solarpunk economic report collage and space opera as well as across different languages and cultures The volume s twelve chapters demonstrate that rising temperatures erratic weather extinction of species depletion of resources and coastal erosion and flooding are an effect of our abusive relationship with nature They also show that our use of nuclear power extraction of natural resources and extensive farming including heavy reliance on pesticides intersect with intrahuman violence as fleshed out by heteropatriarchy racism neo colonialism and capitalism They finally argue that human activity has indirectly contributed to other contemporary crises namely the migrant crisis and the spread of contagious diseases such as Covid 19 Chapter 8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Heroines of the Postmodern and their Worlds in Contemporary Historical Fiction Alicja Bemben,Michael Joseph,2025-09-29 This volume focuses on historical fiction written by and for women approximately in the last 30 years and across the entire globe It comprises three parts Part 1 draws on the theme of the inner life and experiences of the female historical figure Part 2 is concerned with genre bending that fuels the construction of the vast majority of story worlds within the genre and Part 3 with the idea of unusual angles that the historical fiction storytelling employs Imagining Ecocatastrophe Scott Slovic,Joyjit Ghosh,Samit Kumar Maiti,2025-08-01 This volume examines scholarly perspectives on eco imaginaries focusing in particular on how eco catastrophes have been represented in literature and different visual forms including film television and cartoons among other cultural media It draws on literary genres such as science fiction climate fiction speculative fiction petrofiction post apocalyptic narratives and nuclear fiction to examine the role that literature plays in the dissemination of information about environmental crisis in the Anthropocene and in preparing mankind for a better and sustainable future Deeply embedded in theoretical conceptualisations the essays in this volume address issues of natural disasters deforestation nuclear disasters and pandemics among others which constitute the core subjects of environmental humanities A seminal study on the literary and cultural representations of ecodisaster in the global context and with contributions from across the world this book truly interdisciplinary in nature will be an invaluable read for students academicians and researchers in literature film studies climate change studies disaster studies gender studies and cultural studies Policy and Practice in Climate Change and Biodiversity Conservation Asha Ramachandran,2024-12-11

Climate change and biodiversity decline are the major challenges humankind is now facing with profound consequences for people and the ecosystems. Continuous policy crafting is a prerequisite in mitigating climate change maladies as the world is witnessing an unprecedented eruption of climate induced catastrophes including heat waves, hurricanes, unseasonal rain, and diseases spurred by climate change and globalization. This book gives a bird's eye view of climate change, biodiversity conservation, and practical policy imperatives for mitigating inauspicious climate impacts in a globalized digital era. The briefing looks at the relationships and describes policies that promote the interconnectedness of biodiversity and climate action, which is essential for effective environmental stewardship. This also conveys how improperly resolving one problem can make it harder to improve another. The book is useful for academics, policy makers, scholars, researchers, health professionals, and people involved in climate change research and mitigation strategies.
