YouTube Review Novel:

Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction Julie Mehta, Harish Mehta, 2024-09-13 Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction is a comprehensive study of the novels of the Sri Lankan Canadian author and poet Michael Ondaatje. This survey of the Booker Prize winning novelist's works locates him as a powerful voice that urges globalization and multiculturalism in a world that is closing its borders. It reconnoitres Ondaatje's search for a homeland by cracking open the core of his evocative, inventive and innovative concepts that undergird his art of storytelling. The contributors in this volume examine themes such as literary cosmopolitanism, Sri Lankan identity, diasporic identity, race and racism, home and belonging, trauma in the Sri Lankan civil war, war games and uncertainty theory. An important contribution to Ondaatje studies, the book is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of Sri Lankan literature, diasporic and world literatures, South Asian and Canadian studies, cultural studies, postcolonial fiction and history.

Narratives, Nerdfighters, and New Media Jennifer Burek Pierce, 2020-11-15 For decades we've been warned that video killed the radio star, and more recently that social media has replaced reading. Nerdfighteria, a first of its kind online literary community with nearly three million members, challenges these assumptions. It is the brainchild of brothers Hank and John Green, who provide literary-themed programming on their website and YouTube channel, including video clips from John, a best-selling author most famous for his young adult book The Fault in Our Stars. These clips not only give fans personal insights into his works and the writing process, writ large, they also provide unique access to the author, inspiring fans to create their own fan art and make connections with one another. In the twenty-first century, reading and watching videos are related activities that allow people to engage with authors and other readers. Whether they turn to The Fault in Our Stars or titles by lesser-known authors, Nerdfighters are readers. Incorporating thousands of testimonials about what they read and why, Jennifer Burek Pierce not only sheds light on this particular online community, she also reveals what it tells us about the changing nature of reading in the digital age. In Nerdfighteria, we find a community who shows us that being online doesn't mean disinterest in sense of an experience being dislodged from any particular narrative or plot And yet each of the characters in question are creative writers meaning that this everyday feeling of alienation tends to factor into a productive artistic impulse In conclusion these four moments are tied together as they pertain to the nature and boundaries of aesthetic experience in general Just as Kant's four moments of aesthetic judgement seem to be grouped in pairs disinterest and purposiveness without purpose on one hand and universality and necessity on the other hand these four moments can be grouped and set apart to help reconsider what we mean when we talk about aesthetic experience Chuck Palahniuk and the Comic Grotesque David McCracken, 2020-10-30 With the success of Fight Club his novel turned movie Chuck Palahniuk has become noticed for accurately capturing the exploitation of power in America in the 21st century With cynicism and skepticism he satirizes the manipulative aspects of ideologies and beliefs pushing society's understanding of the norm In this work Palahniuk's characters are analyzed as people who rebel against the systems in control Mikhail Bakhtin's theory is applied to explain Palahniuk's application of the comic grotesque theories from Louis Althusser and Slavoj Žižek help reveal aspects of ideology in Palahniuk's writing
