remarkably similar to that of a terrorist organization In An Aesthesia of Networks Anna Munster argues that this uniformity has flattened our experience of networks as active and relational processes and assemblages She counters the network anaesthesia that results from this pervasive mimesis by reinserting the question of experience or aesthesia into networked culture and aesthetics Rather than asking how humans experience computers and networks Munster asks how networks experience what operations they perform and undergo to change and produce new forms of experience Drawing on William James's radical empiricism she asserts that networked experience is assembled first and foremost through relations which make up its most immediately sensed and perceived aspect Munster critically considers a range of contemporary artistic and cultural practices that engage with network technologies and techniques including databases and data mining the domination of search in online activity and the proliferation of viral media through YouTube These practices from artists who undermine data to musicians and VJs who use intranetworked audio and video software environments are concerned with the relationality at the core of today's network experience Network World ,1995-09-18 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Network World ,1996-11-25 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Network World ,1998-10-19 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce
