Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children's picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children's literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style

The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture Claudia Nelson, Elisabeth Wesseling, Andrea Mei-Ying Wu, 2023-11-30 Focusing on significant and cutting edge preoccupations within children's literature scholarship The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture presents a comprehensive overview of print digital and electronic texts for children aged zero to thirteen as forms of world literature participating in a panoply of identity formations Offering five distinct sections this volume Familiarizes students and beginning scholars with key concepts and methodological resources guiding contemporary inquiry into children's literature Describes the major media formats and genres for texts expressly addressing children Considers the production distribution and valuing of children's books from an assortment of historical and contemporary perspectives highlighting context as a driver of content Maps how children's texts have historically presumed and prescribed certain identities on the part of their readers sometimes addressing readers who share some part of the author's identity sometimes seeking to educate the reader about a presumed other and in recent decades increasingly foregrounding identities once lacking visibility and voice Explores the historical evolutions and trans-regional contacts and inter-connections in the long process of the formation of global children's literature highlighting issues such as retranslation transnationalism transculturality and new digital formats for considering cultural crossings and renegotiations in the production of children's literature Methodically presented and contextualized this volume is an engaging introduction to this expanding and multifaceted field

The Book World Today John Hampden, 2025-09-24 Originally published in 1957 The Book World Today was the most comprehensive survey yet attempted of the making and distribution of books in Britain at the time All the main aspects and problems of this complicated process are expounded by men of high standing in their own fields who wrote from expert knowledge Anyone who earned their living from books was likely to find here facts and ideas which were new to them The book has been edited mainly from the publisher's point of view and publishing is given particularly full treatment But the author the agent the booksellers the librarians and the other contributors state their cases freely often expressing views which clash sometimes violently with those of the publishers It is this clash of opinion which gives the book its great importance It would have been challenging stimulating and of practical value to those inside the trade at the time while others would find in it much of interest Today it can be read in its historical context
