Do I Know You? Sharrona Pearl, 2023-11-28 A fascinating history of how we recognize faces or fail to recognize them In Do I Know You Sharrona Pearl explores the fascinating category of face recognition and the the face recognition spectrum which ranges from face blindness at one end to super recognition at the other Super recognizers can recall faces from only the briefest exposure while face blind people lack the capacity to recognize faces at all including those of their closest loved ones Informed by archival research the latest neurological studies and testimonials from people at both ends of the spectrum Pearl tells a nuanced story of how we relate to each other through our faces The category of face recognition is relatively new despite the importance of faces in how we build relationships and understand our own humanity Pearl shows how this most tacit of knowledge came to enter the scientific and diagnostic field despite difficulties with identifying it She offers a grounded framework for how we evaluate others and draw conclusions about them with significant implications for race gender class and disability Pearl explores the shifting ideas around the face recognition spectrum explaining the effects of these diagnoses on real people alongside implications for how facial recognition is studied and understood Face blindness is framed as a disability while super recognition is framed as a superpower with no meaningful disadvantages This superhero rhetoric is tied to the use of super recognizers in criminal detection prosecution and other forms of state surveillance Do I Know You demonstrates a humanistic approach to the study of the brain one that offers an entirely new method for examining this fundamental aspect of human interaction The combination of personal narratives scientific and medical research and high profile advocates like Oliver Sacks helped to establish face recognition as a category and a spectrum in both diagnostic and experiential realms Building on an interdisciplinary foundation that includes the history of medicine science and technology disability studies media and communication artificial intelligence ethics and the health humanities Pearl challenges the binary nature of spectrum thinking in general and provides a fascinating case study in the treatment of this new scientific category

Militarism and the Terrain of Memory John Bechtold, 2024-08-01 This book analyzes how the Iraqi city of Fallujah became registered as a setting for military heroics in American memory In 2004 the U S military conducted two disastrous assaults in Fallujah Iraq More than 1 000 citizens were killed and according to the military s own estimate upwards of 200 000 people were displaced because of the violence Yet despite this human catastrophe the kind of information that emerged in the public domain during the battle foregrounded the soldier s experience in war while effacing the destruction of Iraqi bodies This tendency to foreground the soldier body is a direct result of the military s intervention in what they conceptualize as the information environment This book draws from the second assault in Fallujah as a case study to explicate the military's investment in this perspectival space which is a consequence both of the mediatization of contemporary war and of the need to influence knowledge considered unfavorable to military operations In short the military enlists the media in their targeting process to produce information that is then deployed as persuasive force to modify the beliefs of specific target populations When the cultural texts produced by the media are remediated in the public domain after war they can be thought of as martial constructs because they originated during war through the military's systemized attempt to influence knowledge That is these texts trace to a specific battlefield objective This book reframes the notion of propaganda as a generalized public relations strategy into a more acute and coordinated attempt to decontextualize specific knowledge in the information environment This book will be of much interest to students of media and communication studies war studies memory studies and international relations
