

From the author address of Software Engineering: A Practitioner's Approach

"Superb! From now on, we will consider computer-aided products for the field of software engineering to be the standard for the discipline and software development management practice. It is a leading in practice."

— IBM Software

"This is a classic modern textbook, clear and authoritative, with low-lying costs, intelligent, practical, and modern. . . . I have used it in my own class. What is software engineering and development?"

— IBM Computing Journal

"The up-to-date, in-depth treatment of the software engineering practice."

— Applied Artificial Intelligence

For almost three decades, Software Engineering: A Practitioner's Approach has been the best-selling guide to software engineering for students and industry professionals alike.

In seventh edition, the book has been extensively revised and redesigned, including a new front cover design that addresses most important topics in what many have called "the engineering discipline of the 21st century." The organization and layout of content have been expanded and enhanced, allowing the reader to view learning and educational components in a new light. New chapters and new organizations make the book a must-have to learn the discipline and as a well-used guide.

- Part 1, An Overview, presents both general and specific concepts.
- Part 2, Modeling, presents modeling and design methods with a new emphasis on UML-based modeling.
- Part 3, Quality Engineering, is new for the seventh edition and address all aspects of software testing, quality assurance, formal methods, and software risk management.
- Part 4, Managing Software Projects, presents topics that are critical to those who plan, manage, and control a software project.
- Part 5, Software Tools, presents both new chapters that address software process improvements and formal software engineering methods.
