Spaces Of Consumption Leisure And Shopping In The English Town C1680 183:

Spaces of Consumption Jon Stobart, Andrew Hann, Victoria Morgan, 2013-01-11 Consumption is well established as a key theme in the study of the eighteenth century Spaces of Consumption brings a new dimension to this subject by looking at it spatially Taking English towns as its scene this inspiring study focuses on moments of consumption selecting and purchasing goods attending plays promenading and explores the ways in which these were related together through the spaces of the town the shop the theatre and the street Using this fresh form of analysis it has much to say about sociability politeness and respectability in the eighteenth century Rome, Ostia, Pompeii: Movement and Space. Ray Laurence, David J. Newsome, 2011-11-24 Studies of the Roman city are currently shifting away from architecture towards a dynamic understanding of activities within the urban space This volume focuses on the movement or flow of a Roman city's inhabitants and visitors demonstrating how it contributes to our understanding of the way different elements of society interacted in space Capitalism and the Senses Regina Lee Blaszczyk, David Suisman, 2023-06-13 Capitalism and the Senses is the first edited volume to explore how the forces of capitalism are entangled with everyday sensory experience If the senses have a history as Karl Marx wrote then that history is inseparable from the development of capitalism which has both taken advantage of the senses and influenced how sensory experience has changed over time This pioneering collection shows how seeing hearing tasting smelling and touching have both shaped and been shaped by commercial interests from the turn of the twentieth century to our own time From the manipulation of taste and texture in the food industry to the careful engineering of the feel of artificial fabrics capitalist enterprises have worked to commodify the senses in a wide variety of ways Drawing on history anthropology geography and other fields the volume's essays analyze not only where this effort has succeeded but also where the senses have resisted control and the logic of markets The result is an innovative ensemble that demonstrates how the drive to exploit sensorial experience for profit became a defining feature of capitalist modernity and establishes the senses as an important dimension of the history of capitalism Contributors Nicholas Anderman Regina Lee Blaszczyk Jessica P Clark Ai Hisano Lisa Jacobson Sven Kube Grace Lees Maffei Ingemar Pettersson David Suisman Ana Mar a Ulloa Nicole Welk Joerger Micro-geographies of the Western City, c.1750-1900 Alida Clemente, Dag Lindström, Jon Stobart, 2020-12-29 This book examines the overlapping spaces in modern Western cities to explore the small scale processes that shaped these cities between c 1750 and 1900 It highlights the ways in which time and space matter framing individual actions and practices and their impact on larger urban processes It draws on the original and detailed studies of cities in Europe and North America through a micro geographical approach to unravel urban practices experiences and representations at three different scales the dwelling the street and the neighbourhood Part I explores the changing spatiality of housing examining the complex and contingent relationship between public and private and commercial and domestic as well as the relationship between representations and lived experiences Part II delves into the street as a thoroughfare connecting the city but also as a site of contestation over the control and character of urban spaces Part III draws attention to the neighbourhood as a residential grouping and as a series of spaces connecting flows of people integrating the urban space Drawing on a range of methodologies from space syntax and axial analysis to detailed descriptions of individual buildings this book blends spatial theory and ideas of place with micro history With its fresh perspectives on the Western city created through the built environment and the everyday actions of city dwellers the book will interest historical geographers urban historians and architects involved in planning of cities across Europe and North America

History, Space and Place Susanne Rau, 2019-03-05 Spaces too have a history And history always takes place in spaces But what do historians mean when they use the word spaces And how can spaces be historically investigated Susanne Rau provides a survey of the history of Western concepts of space opens up interdisciplinary approaches to the phenomenon of space in fields ranging from physics and geography to philosophy and sociology and explains how historical spatial analysis can be methodologically and conceptually conceived and carried out in practice The case studies presented in the book come from the fields of urban history the history of trade and global history including the history of cartography but its analysis is equally relevant to other fields of inquiry This book offers the first comprehensive introduction to the theory and methodology of historical spatial analysis Supported by Open Access funds of the University of Erfurt
